TWENTY DROWNED.

A DISASTROUS STORM ON LAKE MICHIGAN.

A Boat Capsized and Twenty Persons Known to Have Been Drowned.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 20.—A terrific storm swept over Lake Michigan last night and fears are entertained that the loss of life reported will be great. One boat containing twenty people went down and all on board were drowned. This is the only known fatality so far, but other vessels encountered the gale and will probably report loss of life. It was one of the worst storms of the season and appears to have been general over the lake region.

THIRD CLASS CITIES.

Governor Stone Signs the Bill Amending the Law.

JEFFERSON CITY, April 20.—Gov. Stone yesterday signed the bill amending the law governing third class cities. It enables a complete reorganization of third class cities and is the bill agreed upon by the conference of the representatives of various cities at Jefferson City last winter.

The Santa Fe Strike.

KANSAS CITY, April 20.—There is little change in the condition of the strike on the Santa Fe save the arrival at Topeka of sixty non-union workmen. The company officials are uneasy lest the influx of non-union men should provoke the strikers to violence but it is not thought likely that any serious disturbance will occur. It is proposed to quarter the new men in the shops.

The Missouri Breaks the Record.

B. F. Holway, the horseman, was in town to-day and said that about all the farmers were doing at present was to stay by the fire and keep warm. He was of the opinion that corn planted in March and not up yet would have to be replanted. The present heavy rains will have a tendency to cause the corn to rot. The fruit on Mr. Holway's farm, so far, has not been injured in the least. All of the small streams are out of their banks, flat creek being on a regular rampage. Mr. Holway stated that this morning the Missouri river was higher than it had been in April for thirty years.

Will Arrive in Two Weeks.

A letter from Col. John A. Hanay to a friend in this city states he will be home in two weeks and will make an onslaught into the fishing pools of the Niangua. He had many words of praise for the substantial progress being made by the DEMOCRAT.

Doing a Good Business.

Col. Jos. White returned from St. Louis on the early morning train, to which place he had accompanied his wife who was on her way to visit relatives at Pana, Ill. While in St. Louis, Col. White succeeded in making a highly successful business transaction by which he sold a large quantity of his hedge fence. He reports his business in a flourishing condition.

Taken to Nevada.

Sheriff Porter and Deputy Sheriff Ramsey left this morning for Nevada with Albert Mercer and Mary Myers who were adjudged insane yesterday, and who will be placed in the asylum there.

Filled For Record.

The will of Wm. G. Winchell was filed for record with Recorder Pilkington to-day.

Ellis Smith Injured.

Ex-Sheriff Ellis R. Smith was splitting kindling at his house on West Third street, late yesterday afternoon, when a splinter struck him in the left eye, with the result that the eye was badly injured. Dr. S. K. Crawford dressed the wound, and it is believed the sight will not be permanently injured.

SOMEONE'S SHAME.

A dead infant found on West Third street—Born Last Night.

A number of school children while on their way to school this morning found the body of a dead infant lying about ten feet from the sidewalk on the ground at one time occupied by the merry-go-round on West Third street.

Officer John Scally was notified of the find and he in turn summoned Coroner Muehl. Both visited the spot and found the body to be that of a white male foetus, evidently about three months old. It was well developed. There were no traces by which its unnatural parents could be discovered. Every indication pointed to the fact that the body had been left on the spot during the heavy storm of last night. An inquest was deemed unnecessary and the body was buried on the spot.

Coroner Muehl said the only thing that could result from an investigation would be to prove that a criminal operation had been performed.

IN HOT WATER.

The St. Louis Broker May be Sued by the Missouri Pacific Railway.

George J. Gould in an interview makes the statement that there is not a word of truth in the assertion that the road has a floating debt of $7,000,000 not shown on its books. He also stated that the floating debt is only $4,000,000, all of which is carried by himself and Russell Sage. He was indignant at the idea of a receiver.

The St. Louis broker who passed as authority for the sensational article in the Chronicle has evidently "bit off more than he can chew." The following dispatch from New York in to-day's Globe Democrat explains itself:

"Mr. Winslow S. Pierce, general attorney for the Missouri Pacific in this city, has sent a dispatch to Mr. A. G. Cochran, general solicitor of the company in St. Louis, stating that it is the desire of the management that he at once advise whether the local broker to whom the published article attributes false and injurious statements is subject to arrest and prosecution under the Missouri statutes. These statements were apparently designed to have a direct and serious effect upon the credit of the company and the standing of its securities, and the management desires to be advised at once of what redress and remedy it may avail itself under civil or criminal procedure."

A Murderer's Plea.

Chas. Banks, who killed Ike Palmer (both colored), is soliciting funds from all visitors to the jail, for the purpose of employing an attorney to assist Messrs. Whitsett & Hammer in defending the case. Contributions will be thankfully received, no matter how small.

Made Another Survey.

County Surveyor Stanley has made a second survey of the public road that runs through the land of Frederick Schach, south of town, and for which Mr. Schach was twice arrested for building a fence thereon and thus obstructing the highway. The second survey runs on the exact lines of the original one.

Will Hold a Meeting.

The W. C. T. U. will hold a mothers' meeting at the parlors of the Y. M. C. A., to which all ladies interested in the welfare of the rising generation are cordially invited.

Sent to Jail.

Thomas Gray, a lad of 16 or 17 years, was convicted in Justice Fisher's court this morning of having assaulted his brother, George, at their home, No. 421 West Pettis street, and was fined $5 and costs. In default of payment he was committed to jail.

How Dick Puts in His Time.

Dick Robinson, the murderer of Johanna Schollman, and who was sentenced to be hanged June 2, was seen in the county jail this morning by a DEMOCRAT reporter.

"I am feeling very well," said Dick, "but it is a little chilly in here this morning. I put in my time talking with my cellmates, reading the newspapers that I can get hold of and sleeping. I don't care to say anything about my case," nor would he unboast himself when interrogated on the subject.

Granted a Divorce.

Mrs. Eva Brown, a former resident of Northeast Sedalia, was granted a divorce in Kansas City yesterday from Wm. A. Brown. When the couple lived here, a few years ago, Brown was employed as brakeman on the M., K. & T. Adultery was the ground on which the decree was granted yesterday.

JOHN'S JOB.

Capt. J. J. Kinney Will Be Provided For on the Santa Fe—Status of the Strike.

A letter was received this morning from Capt. John J. Kinney, who is at Topeka, in which he says that he expects to secure a position with the Santa Fe within the next day or two.

Mr. Kinney says the strike of shopmen is not causing General Manager Frey any great annoyance, as trains are moving as usual and more freight is being hauled than ever before in the road's history.

Mr. Kinney enclosed in his letter a copy of resolutions adopted by the company's employees at La Junta, Col., and forwarded to Master Mechanic Player, as follows:

"We, as the Brotherhood of Railway Shop Employees at La Junta, desire to say to you, through the press, that a copy of the contract which is the cause of the present strike on the A., T. & S. F. system has been furnished said Brotherhood of Railway Shop Employees, and after a careful and dispassionate examination of the same, in lodge assembled, we believe it to be a blow to said Brotherhood of Shop Employees, and as such we ask our members along the line of said system to return to work, as we have no grievances at present with said railway system, and cannot consistently join the striking forces, cut our men out of employment, or force them, by such action, to go to work at wiper's pay, as then the days of the hands men would be numbered."

Postponed.

The Sedalia Athletic Club ball, which was to have come off last night, was, on account of the inclement weather, postponed till next Monday night, April 24th. All invitations hold good till then.

Harry is a Hustler.

Harry H. Parsons, of Ann Arbor, Michigan, who assisted the republicans of Missouri in "standing up" for Major Warner in the last campaign, is in Sedalia to-day.

Harry is not yet attained his

Mr. Parsons has been chosen to represent the University of Michigan at the republican national convention to be held at Louisville, Ky., May 10, next.

The Storm's Ravages.

The wind and rain storm of last night appears to have been general throughout Central Missouri, but so far as ascertained up to 3 o'clock p. m. no serious damage resulted. In the city, reports are numerous of trees, both fruit and shade, having been blown down, and several chimneys were demolished and awnings wrecked, but this is about the extent of the damage.

A DEMOCRAT IN CHARGE.

Complimentary Words for a Sedalia Gentleman.

J. J. Frey, the new general manager of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad, says to-day's Kansas City Times, is a democrat. In politics he differs from any other prominent Santa Fe official who has ever done service in Kansas. In his ability as a "mixer" he resembles the company's general solicitor, George R. Peck, who now makes his headquarters in Chicago.

Mr. Frey has not been in the state long enough to be either a "stalwart" or a "fusionist." He is just a plain democrat fresh from

If he should choose to meddle in politics General Manager Frey would undoubtedly soon become as prominent a figure in the democratic party of the state as George R. Peck is in the republican party.

When Will It Take Place

Several months ago a member of the sporting fraternity of Sedalia received a barrel of apples from Michigan. In it was a tag upon which was the address of a young lady who desired to correspond with "some real nice young gentleman." The young gentleman was shortly forthcoming and a furious correspondence has been kept up ever since. The girl is anxious to marry and has repeatedly refused to take any notice of letters written to her by other parties. There is evidence to believe that she is in "dead earnest."

Death of Miss Shepherd.

Miss Lulu Shepherd, aged 18 years, and a most estimable young lady, died this morning at 1 o'clock of consumption at the house of her parents on West Main street. The funeral took place at 2 o'clock p. m.

Official Paper of the City of Sedalia.

RELIABLE AND NEWSY!

THE DAILY DEMOCRAT.

Now let's have that north and south railroad.

Quite a touch of winter for the latter part of April.

GENTLEMEN, agree upon some plan for a convention hall and build it this year.

SINCE nature has done her part toward cleaning the city let every citizen now take up the good work.

SECRETARY CARLISLE does not appear to be as plastic as many persons in the east supposed he would be.

THE Missouri delegation in congress is solid, or almost so, upon upon the great questions which affect the interests of their constituents.

NEWSPAPERS should be careful about publishing sensational articles impeaching the financial standing of business enterprises. It is frequently the case that an enterprise or an investment is ruined by reckless newspaper discussion of its solvency.

MISSOURI must wait for her new constitution until after the next election, but the question will be discussed more generally in 1894 than it was in 1892, and the more it is discussed the greater the probability that a constitutional convention will be called.

THE public will be glad to learn that Mr. George Gould will prosecute the broker who started the sensational story so injurious to the credit of the Missouri Pacific. The business interests of millions of people are intimately connected with the road and an injury to the one necessarily affects the other.

THERE is no occasion why even the rankest partisan should be alarmed at the meeting of southern governors. If it is treason for the executive officers of various states to meet and discuss business problems affecting the prosperity and development of the commonwealths they represent, it is such a mild sort of crime that the public will hardly become excited enough to demand that the troops be called out.

THE effort to ostracize any religious denomination in this country or debar a man from the privileges of citizenship because he belongs to or sympathizes with any particular denomination, is a work that no good citizen should encourage. Fanaticism is rapidly dying out and every year it becomes plainer that it is crime and sin that should be fought to the death rather than any particular church. The sincere protestant and the devout catholic are each striving for the same end and should be taught to love and respect each other rather than to hate and abuse.

THE enterprising business men of Sedalia are utilizing a great deal of the space in the DEMOCRAT just now and it really seems that the paper will have to be enlarged. A little more than a year ago the DEMOCRAT was started as a six-column folio. Then enlarged to seven columns, and now every inch of available space seems to be demanded. The increase in circulation has more than kept pace with the increase in advertising.

EVEN the Globe-Democrat calls upon Secretary Carlisle to redeem the Sherman notes in silver. When the government begins to treat silver coin as money and ceases to discriminate against it we will hear less of threatened panics and of the "depreciation" of silver.

THE news comes from Washington that General Gooding, the well known St. Louis politician, is about to be placed under police restraint. He walks around Washington armed to the teeth and makes violent threats against several senators and others.

THE Ann Arbor railroad strike was settled yesterday substantially on the basis proposed by Commissioner Kirby and rejected by the men in March last.

THE Washington correspondent of the Republic thinks it certain that Col. Dick Dalton will be appointed to the St. Louis surveyorship this week.

JUDGE JAS. P. ROSS, one of the pioneers of Morgan county, died in Versailles Tuesday at the ripe age of eighty-three.

AMUSEMENTS.

John Dillon's new comedy, "A Model Husband," which will be seen at the Opera House April 21st, has created quite a sensation throughout the west this season and is described as a cyclonic hurricane of flirtations, love and elopements, shedding new light upon that interesting problem, "Is Marriage a Failure."

"The Fire Patrol"

"The Fire Patrol," coming to the Opera House Saturday night, is a five-act melodrama by James W. Harkins, Jr., author of "The Midnight Alarm," and introduces a fire patrol wagon and horses and what is said to be a correct representation of the interior of a gold stamp mill in Deadwood, with the ore crushers in full operation. The play has met with considerable success in New York City, where it was produced for three weeks early in the season.

A Couple of Weddings.

W. J. Roley, of Roley Bros., and Miss Anna E. Berthouze were united in marriage at the bride's home last night, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Dr. Wm. Jones.

Also, last night, August M. Kremer, of the M., K. & T. shops, was united in marriage to Miss Nannie Sharp, one of Sedalia's charming young ladies.

To both couples the best wishes of the DEMOCRAT are extended.

Incline the Platform.

The present condition of the union depot platform during heavy rains is an aggravation and a constant source of danger to the health of passengers alighting from trains. On numerous occasions the water has been ankle deep, making it utterly impassable for ladies. The patrons of the railroads insist that this matter be remedied at once. Incline the platform.

Located at Last.

Andy Gardella, who for seventeen years made Sedalia his home, has finally decided to cast his lot here again and has purchased a one-half interest in Frank Shackles' "Silver Moon" restaurant on West Main street. The firm will be Gardella & Shackles, and surely no more clever men are to be found in Sedalia than Andy and Frank.

Look Out for Thieves.

Chief of Police DeLong and his blue battalion have had a lively time during yesterday and to-day ridding the city of thieves and suspicious characters. The city has been overrun by the light fingered gentry, but none of them as far as known turned a trick. Fifteen of them left Sedalia yesterday in one box car.

Likes His New Home.

A SEDALIAN HONORED.

County Treasurer Hughes Receives an Important Appointment of Great Interest to Farmers.

A handsomely engraved appointment, resplendent with a gold seal and covered with official signatures, has been received by County Treasurer Joseph S. Hughes, stating that he has been appointed a member of the Advisory Council of the World's Congress Auxiliary on Farm Culture and Cereal Industry, and member of the World's Agricultural Congresses. The latter convenes in Chicago during the week commencing Monday, October 16, 1893. The meeting place of the former will be in the Live Stock Pavilion, just south of the Agricultural building, which will be open at all times from June 1st to October 1st, and daily talks by eminent men will be had in the Assembly hall of the Agricultural building. The World's Agricultural Congresses will be held in the Memorial Art Palace.

It is proposed to make these gatherings of agriculturists of international importance. Farmers from every state and all parts of the world will be present to become acquainted and exchange ideas. It requires, however, a letter of introduction to gain admittance. Once admitted, there are gentlemen who will take pleasure in making everybody feel at home. Any farmer in Pettis county by applying to County Treasurer Hughes will be given a letter of introduction and thereby enabled to take advantage of many things that will be of incalculable benefit to him.

The honor conferred upon our worthy citizen is one of which he may well be proud, and was a compliment from the chairman, Hon. Samuel W. Allerton.

The Cost of Rubber Shoes.

"I am not surprised that the people are crying out against the oppressions of monopoly," said a gentleman to a DEMOCRAT representative this morning. "The heavy rain to-day found me without rubbers, and I immediately sought a shoe store. I was surprised to find that the price of rubber shoes had risen from 25 to 40 per cent above the usual price. Shoes that I purchased this winter for 75 cents, now cost a dollar. The extortion has been brought about by a combine of all the big rubber houses in the country. Give me anti-monopoly legislation; the people are demanding it and will have it."

Torn In Shreds.

The wind of last night tore into shreds the awning that protected the rear windows of the Court House Market from the sun's rays, and Dick Baker is distributing the remnants among his friends for neckties to-day.

THE CLOSING BALL.

The Assembly Club Will Make It an Occasion of Great Festivity and Pleasure.

The Assembly club, Sedalia's well-known society organization, will end the season with a farewell ball on Friday evening, May 19, at Association park.

Every possible arrangement is being made for the pleasure and entertainment of the guests. The Mermod-Jaccard Jewellery Co., will execute the invitations which will be of great beauty. The members of the club will issue 100 to their friends in Sedalia, and also send a like number to prominent society people in Lexington, Marshall, Boonville, Jefferson City, Windsor, Clinton, Sweet Springs and other places. The members of the club are giving the ball as a compliment to their friends. The officers who have so successfully managed the affairs of the club are: S. R. Wolf, president; Joe H. Kelley, vice-president; W. H. Hogg, secretary; S. S. Crow, treasurer; executive committee, H. F. Espenscheid, H. R. Scott and G. C. Hoffman.

The committees who will manage the coming ball are as follows:

Reception committee—S. R. Wolf, J. F. Kennedy, J. H. Kelley, H. H. Hawkins, W. E. Bard, Jr. Floor committee—O. B. Caldwell, Will Cloney, G. H. Wright. Invitation committee—W. H. Hogg, H. R. Scott, L. L. Ilgenfritz.

Greatly Surprised.

My wife was confined to her bed for over two months with a very severe attack of rheumatism. We could get nothing that would afford her any relief, and as a last resort gave Chamberlain's Pain Balm a trial. To our great surprise she began to improve after the first application, and by using it regularly she was soon able to get up and attend to her house work. E. H. Johnson, of C. J. Knutson & Co., Kensington, Minn. 50 cent bottles for sale by druggists.

Will Delay the Hearing.

The fact that General Manager George C. Smith is out on the road on a tour of inspection will delay the hearing that was to have been accorded this week to the Missouri Pacific engineers and firemen who were dismissed a short time ago.

Postmasters Appointed.

Postmasters have been appointed as follows: Buncheon, Cooper county, C. L. Cully, vice C. W. Cully, resigned; Jamestown, Moniteau county, Wm. Eldridge, vice Lorenza Frost, resigned; McGirk, Moniteau county, H. H. Kay, vice F. H. Busch, resigned.

A Circus Coming.

The advance agents of Ringling Bros. circus arrived at Kaiser's today and are making arrangements for the appearance of the show here next month.

Lost a Chimney.

Rev. Myers, pastor of the German Evangelical church on Main street, mourns the loss of a chimney, which was blown from his residence by the wind last night.

Changed the Date.

Peter Jackson, the colored pugilist, has changed the date for his appearance at Wood's opera house, and will make his bow Monday night instead of Tuesday night. But Peter will not be the only attraction to the sporting public, for with him come Charles E. Davies, known from world's end to world's end as the "Parson," his manager, and genial, indomitable Joseph Bartlett Choynski, his sparring partner, who is just now panting to get a whack at Robert Fitzsimmons' jaw, and both of whom will assist the colored pugilistic actor in Harriet Beecher Stowe's creation. The Parson will do the auctioneer, while Joseph Bartlett will execute the role of Haley, the slave driver.

They are coming.

Written for the DEMOCRAT.

Irresponsible Journalism.

It is always a matter of regret when a malicious, irresponsible person gains access to any public position, but in no place can a mean-souled individual so fully give play to his lack of principle as when in the field of journalism. This noble profession should be open only to men of the purest minds and largest hearts, and the untruthful, spiteful and ill-bred man should be debarred from engaging in this responsible avocation. It is natural for a narrow-minded, contemptible man to be suspicious of others, and to charge men with crimes he would not himself hesitate to commit were a like opportunity offered, and to measure all other men by his own contemptible standard of honesty.

Any newspaper that will stoop to pick up and repeat in print the unauthenticated rumors set afloat—they know not how, and with no better authority than "We are told," "It is rumored," and "We understand," attempt to blacken and injure personal reputation, deserves the condemnation of all fair-minded persons, because it sinks beneath the level of honorable journalism and becomes merely an organ of envy and spite. A newspaper statement, charging citizens with dishonest or dishonorable conduct, should be sustained by the most unquestionable authority; it should not emanate from the slums, nor bear the mark of malice; neither ought any man who is not himself above reproach pose before the public as a rampant reformer of its morals.

A public journal, with men of this stamp to conduct it, is of just about as much consequence in any community as a meddlesome, gossiping old woman would be, and if the "Mother Grundys" of the press were an extinct class the grand profession of journalism would rise to its rightful dignity. VINDEX.

After a Postoffice.

Joe P. Skillman, the Dresden merchant, was in the city last evening, placing orders with Sedalia's wholesale merchants. Joe is an applicant for the postmastership of his town, and says that his petition contains the signatures of 85 of the 135 democratic patrons of the office. He has opposition, however, in Messrs. Rees, Glascock and Stine, but has hopes of capturing the prize notwithstanding all of this.

On a Tour of Inspection.

General Manager Geo. C. Smith, Traffic Manager C. A. Parker, Superintendent H. G. Clark and Division Superintendent Meade Stilwell, of the Missouri Pacific, left on a special train at 8 o'clock this morning for Pleasant Hill, and go thence over the Lexington and Southern division of the Missouri Pacific on a tour of inspection, accompanied by Division Superintendent Keller. Mr. H. G. Clark says that the property is in first-class condition.

Snow Fell This Morning.

Conductor John McConnell, who brought the "Katy" passenger train in from the north this morning, reports that there was a considerable fall of snow at Higbee at 6 o'clock this morning. The rain extended as far north as Hannibal, but no damage by the wind was reported along the north line of the M., K. & T.

News About Different Roads, Employers and Employees.

Electric street cars Nos. 8 and 13 are in the shops undergoing repairs after being struck by lightning.

J. H. Baker, superintendent of telegraph repairs for the Missouri Pacific, came in from the west this morning.

Ed. Lamb, the well-known passenger brakeman on the "Katy" road, left last night for a visit of a few days in Chicago.

The incoming Lexington branch engine gave abundant evidence this morning that it had plowed its way through both mud and water.

Express messengers who run south on the Katy report traffic in strawberries has already commenced, and nearly all that come north are sent to Kansas City.

A Fortune for Its Owner.

The Denver Herald of a recent date contains a lengthy article concerning the invention of a successful automatic car coupler by Mr. Hardin G. Field, of Denver, and which has every indication of bringing a big fortune for the patentee. He is known to many Sedalians and is the son of Attorney Curtis N. Field and Mrs. M. L. Field, who spent the past fall and winter with relatives in Missouri. He is also a grandnephew of the late Judge Curtis Field.

The coupler is uncoupled by means of a lever securely fastened to the end of the car and extending to the outer sides of the same, with handles attached so as to be operated entirely free from danger. The draw head is composed of two locks into which the link or draw bar is forced by the motion of the cars desired to be coupled. Whenever thus coupled it is impossible for them to separate by any ordinary accident or pressure. The draw bar can be coupled with the old drawhead by use of the pin, or the link and pin can be used as heretofore.

AT ITS OLD TRICKS.

The "Gazette" Goes Out of Its Way to Injure the Missouri Pacific Railway.

The Gazette went out of its way this morning to pay the Missouri Pacific a left-handed compliment by reproducing an article from the St. Louis Chronicle, in which it was set forth that the road would soon pass into the hands of receivers, as its financial condition is bad.

The Gazette followed the Chronicle story with a New York dispatch in which Geo. Gould denied that there was any truth whatever in the statement printed by the Chronicle; but the Gazette, in its desire to injure a home road, follows Mr. Gould's denial with the following paragraph:

"Local officers of the Missouri Pacific, when shown a copy of the paper yesterday, expressed great surprise. One of them said that part of the article relating to the running down of the bed and equipment was true, for it was a fact, known of all men who go over the line that the road, both as to track and equipment, was in worse condition than it had been for years."

There are several local officials in Sedalia, including Messrs. Clark, Stillwell, Weller, Sheldon, Rogers and Rohwer, but no one believes that they are responsible for the paragraph printed above. Will the Gazette be more specific and name the "local officers" that it pretends to quote?

The fact is, and it is universally conceded in railway circles, that the track and equipment of the Missouri Pacific are not surpassed by any western railway and equaled by few. Nearly the entire main line is rock ballasted, and the idea of any local official making use of the language printed by the Gazette is simply preposterous.

To attack home institutions appears to be the policy of the Gazette under the new management, however, and it is not surprising that the paper is fast losing its few remaining subscribers.

Perfect Constitutional Powers.

Its extraordinary curative power manifests itself almost immediately it is taken. On this point the evidence of those who have taken it is uniform and positive. They say they can feel the effect of every dose doing them good. It is a powerful nerve invigorating tonic, imparting its restorative influence through the medium of the nervous system to every organ and tissue in the body. It makes but little difference whether the constitutional vigor has been undermined by acute disease, overwork, or certain mischievous indiscretions; or whether the broken down condition is caused by one name or other, so long as there is nervous exhaustion, general or local weakness—so long as enervation and debility are the type of the ailment, this is the remedy.

THOSE WHO SUFFER

from the results of over-mental or physical exertion, hardship, exposure, hidden drains, caprices, or who have brought upon themselves a series of afflictions by generally or wilfully violating nature's laws, will find in Caton's Vitalizer and Nerve Tonic the remedy for their certain relief. It speedily removes all evidences of progressive physical deterioration, and restores the enfeebled energies to their natural vigor.

WHENEVER THERE IS any weakness of the vital organs, nervousness, prostration of the physical or mental energies, confusion of ideas, lack of self-confidence, irritability of temper, melancholy, cowardice, weakness of the knees and back, palpitation of the heart, dragging pain in the loins, headache, irritation of the kidneys and bladder, milky urine, pernicious and hidden wastes, resulting in a failure of the mental and physical powers, constituting an impediment to success and unfitting him or her for the duties and responsibilities of life, it is the remedy per excellence.

A single package will be sufficient to inaugurate the work of regeneration, and cure in many cases. But stubborn cases often require more. It will be sent, postpaid, secured from observation, for $1.00 per package, or 6 packages for $5.00. Address all orders to CATON MED. CO., Boston, Mass.

DEADLY TORNADO.

IT DOES DIRE WORK ON YESTERDAY.

Many Persons Injured at Osage City, Kansas—Much Damage to Property.

OSAGE CITY, KAS., April 19.—One of the most destructive storms ever known in this section passed over the city yesterday evening, scattering death and destruction in its track. The scene after the storm passed was heart-rending, but the injured were cared for as tenderly as possible. Even at this hour it is not known what the fatalities will number for many of the wounded are in a serious condition. Fully one hundred buildings were wholly or partially wrecked and more than a score of persons were injured.

Restless Strikers.

KANSAS CITY, April 19.—The strikers at Armstrong seem confident of ultimate success, and there are rumors that should the trouble be prolonged the Alton men will also stop work.

The Argentine strikers claim that they have assurance from the governor of Kansas that they will have his encouragement and support if necessary.

The Santa Fe Strike.

TOPEKA, KAN., April 19.—It is not believed here that a general strike of the employees of the Santa Fe system is likely. Only a few men are at work in the shops.

It Makes Him Friends.

"The more the Gaette abuses me the more friends I appear to have," said ex-Councilman George E. Dugan this morning. "The new people who have run the Gaette into the ground do not appear to know that for one year past the council has been in the habit of remitting outlawed penalties on taxes in order to perfect titles to property, but you would hardly expect any one connected with the Gaette management to know much about Sedalia or Missouri affairs."

An Alleged Ingrate.

Deputy Constable Markham, of Warsaw, left for that point this morning, having in custody W. C. Ellison, a farm laborer, who was arrested ten miles north of Sedalia yesterday, charged with having sold a horse that he had borrowed from a friend—in other words, charged with horse stealing.

Was Basely Deceived.

George Hoffman is said to be so suspicious that he takes the opposite side of the street when passing a telegraph office. Shortly before the arrival of the morning train from Kansas City a few days ago, George received a telegram to which was attached the name of one of the fairest maids of Missouri, stating that she would arrive in Sedalia to visit friends. George made a desperate rush to get shaved, etc., and was at the depot on time, with his heart palpitating with expectancy. When John Frey got off the train and winked knowingly at George, the latter gnashed his teeth and tore his hair. He had been basely deceived.

Is Now at Trinidad.

Nearly all old-time Sedalians will call to mind John Cullom, who was a resident of the Prairie Queen in the 70s. He clerked in Jim Cobine's one-story brick grocery store, where the four-story Dempsey building now stands, and was afterwards deputy sheriff of the county. Johnny is now located at Trinidad, Col., where he owns the finest bar in the city and is coining money. He is not much the rise of forty years of age, but his hair is as white as that of many men of three score and ten. Johnny still has fond recollections of Sedalia, but has become infatuated with the Centennial state and says he expects to end his days there.

RAISED A ROW.

The Story of a Pair of Pantaloon Ordered From a Sedalia Firm

Russell T. McRorey, a former Sedalian, is now agent for the Denver and Rio Grande Express Co. at Trinidad, Col., and was one of the invited guests to a farewell reception and banquet tendered General Manager Kramer in Denver the past week. Desiring to show up as well as Charlie Walters (also a former Sedalian) and other friends who were to be present, Russell sent an order to Arnold & Son, of this city, for a new pair of pantaloons, to be forwarded to him by a certain date. The trousers were completed in ample time and John Arnold turned them over to John Grimshaw, of the Pacific Express Co., to send to Russell. 'Gene Couey, a brother-in-law of Russell, desired to add something to the package, however, and accordingly took charge of it, with the understanding that the pantaloons would be sent westward on the next train.

'Gene overlooked the package, though, nor was it forwarded until the banquet was a thing of the past and Arnold & Son received a letter from Russell, complaining because he had been disappointed. It was then that all the facts came out, and as it is known that Russell was one of the honored guests at the banquet, Harley Morsman and John Grimshaw are wondering where he obtained a pair of unmentionables in which to make his debut in Colorado society.

Peter Jackson Coming.

Peter Jackson, the colored pugilist, is booked to appear at Wood's opera house next Tuesday night. Peter is a member of Stockwell's Uncle Tom's Cabin company, which appears here that night, and a sparring exhibition is given in connection with the play. There are a good many who believe that Jackson is a better man than Corbett, and for that reason a large audience will probably turn out Tuesday night to see how the negro handles himself.

Heard a Strange Noise.

Baggage Master Johnny Wright and Assistant Ticket Agent J. H. McLain, at the union depot, had their wives call them early yesterday morning, and started to explore the wilds of Flat creek in the vicinity of Thatcher's Ford, ostensibly to fish. A farmer who came to town about noon declared that he saw both of them sitting on the limb of a tall tree about four miles from town, and the only explanation they could give was that they "had heard a strange noise." It is safe to say that the story of the Flat creek panther will again bob up with elaborate and blood-curdling details. Some fish stories can also be expected.

Remembered in Sedalia.

Joseph V. Fenaja, a fireman on the Missouri Pacific, was married Wednesday in St. Louis to a young lady named Miss Glory M. Collins. Fenaja figured last year as a railroad hero in the columns of the Missouri press. On the night of January 19, 1892, he was a brakeman on a freight train that broke down near Ottumwa, Mo. He was sent back to flag an approaching passenger train and was accidentally left, as he did not hear the signal sounded by his train. The mercury was 12 degrees below zero, and before Fenaja could be rescued he was terribly frozen. He was taken to St. Louis, where he remained in the hospital for many weeks. His marriage is said to have a little tinge of romance. Fenaja was penniless when he recovered and was backward in continuing his suit for the young lady's hand, but she remedied matters by loving him harder than ever.

No Contracts Violated.

General Manager J. J. Frey says that the Santa Fe has violated no agreement made with employees and he does not credit any of the reports which say that the men will violate contracts made with the company. As to the reports that freight is being blockaded because of the condition of engines, Mr. Frey says that more of it is being moved now than at any time for a year.

Mr. Maxwell's Special Car.

Special M., K. & T. car No. 26, which has been used by General Superintendent A. A. Allen, was left at Denison Monday morning by the official special, and has been assigned to Superintendent Joe Maxwell. Mr. Maxwell has been promised a special for some time and now is jubilant over its arrival.

Putting In Curbing.

A number of West Fifth street property owners are putting down curbing in front of their respective premises preparatory to the paving of the street, but the rain caused a general suspension of operations to-day. The Messrs. Kelk—father and two sons—have put in a curb of granitoid in front of their residences, and it matches well with the handsome and substantial granitoid walks.

TWENTY DROWNED.

A DISASTROUS STORM ON LAKE MICHIGAN.

A Boat Capsized and Twenty Persons Known to Have Been Drowned.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 20.—A terrific storm swept over Lake Michigan last night and fears are entertained that the loss of life reported will be great. One boat containing twenty people went down and all on board were drowned. This is the only known fatality so far, but other vessels encountered the gale and will probably report loss of life. It was one of the worst storms of the season and appears to have been general over the lake region.

THIRD CLASS CITIES.

Governor Stone Signs the Bill Amending the Law.

JEFFERSON CITY, April 20.—Gov. Stone yesterday signed the bill amending the law governing third class cities. It enables a complete reorganization of third class cities and is the bill agreed upon by the conference of the representatives of various cities at Jefferson City last winter.

The Santa Fe Strike.

KANSAS CITY, April 20.—There is little change in the condition of the strike on the Santa Fe save the arrival at Topeka of sixty non-union workmen. The company officials are uneasy lest the influx of non-union men should provoke the strikers to violence but it is not thought likely that any serious disturbance will occur. It is proposed to quarter the new men in the shops.

CONVENTION HALL AGAIN.

The Movement to Get One Should Not Be Abandoned.

To the Editor of the DEMOCRAT. I have been told that some persons are blaming me for upsetting a plan by which the city might get a convention hall. I am not egotistical enough to think that my influence personally would have any such sudden and disastrous effect, and if there is to be any failure it is from defect of plan.

I do not think any encouragement should be given to the idea of getting something of value for nothing. If some person had prevented this being done when the project of a university was presented to the citizens, we would have saved an outlay of many thousands of dollars, by the loss of which the establishment of any other institution of learning has been made more difficult.

The Sedalia Manufacturing company was organized some years ago, and those who had stock in it would not have paid the best bank or trust company in Sedalia five dollars to insure the stockholders fifty per cent profit, but the bottom soon fell out and the stock was worthless. The Depp Manufacturing company organized with stock of the par value of $20 per share and soon after the shares were selling for $300 per share, and then the collapse came and the company did not pay its debts.

The convention hall plan that was proposed seemed to me to offer very large returns for very small outlay, and the two were so disproportionate that I could not help thinking of the Sedalia university, the Sedalia Manufacturing company and the Depp Manufacturing company. First impressions are not always correct, and I would have been glad to have been shown that they were not so in this case. I thought that $30,000 was a very small amount for a building that would be large enough to serve all the five purposes suggested. I would have been glad to have learned that a plan had been mapped out, and figures obtained from a competent architect proving that the building could be put up for the figures stated. If no such estimate had been obtained then the figures were a mere guess, and may have been as far wrong as mine, had I named $60,000.

More than a year ago, at the suggestion of Mr. Crandall, a subscription list was started to raise money to put up a club house for what has since been called the "Niangua club." More than sixty of the 200 subscribers wanted at $100 each were obtained, and then the project was temporarily dropped to try to get the state university moved here. Mr. Crandall had proposed that, for a comparatively small sum to be contributed by the citizens outside of the stockholders, the club would build on the ground floor a hall suitable for conventions and for an armory. With the promised consummation of the building of the Springfield road under the efficient management of Messrs. Crandall and Quigley, the money could now be raised to carry out the plans for this club house.

Or, if it is thought best to simply get a building for a convention hall and armory, and the city has ground in a suitable locality for it, the money can be raised to build it on ground owned by the city. It will not require much money to put up a building which will be suitable for the two purposes of holding conventions and for armory use, and this money can be easily raised among the citizens. Because one plan is not successfully defended is no proof that Sedalia cannot find means for properly carrying out its boast that it is to be the convention city of the state.

F. A. SAMPSON.

STILL A MYSTERY.

Will the Assassination of Curry Tribie Ever be Explained Satisfactorily?

The order of Judge Ryland in the criminal court Tuesday, excusing Nathan Arnold, colored, from further attendance on the grand jury, virtually means that he will never be tried for the killing of Curry Tribie, a colored neighbor, last year.

It was a case of assassination, readers of the DEMOCRAT will remember, and there was never a scintilla of evidence to implicate Arnold in the crime, but he was arrested on suspicion merely because he had quarreled with Tribie months before.

Two grand juries investigated the matter, but there was never the least evidence against Arnold, and hence the order of Judge Ryland Tuesday.

Arnold was raised in the family of Finis P. Arnold's father, and scores of the best people in Pettis county give the old negro an excellent character.

The killing of Tribie is as much of a mystery as ever; but, unless something unexpected turns up, Arnold will never be tried for the crime.

BANK OF COMMERCE.

A Splendid Showing for Sedalia's and Pettis County's New Bank.

That Sedalia is the repository for money for a large territory surrounding it, is voted by the number and success of her banks and financial institutions. Believing that the business demanded and would justify another bank, some of Sedalia's and Pettis county's most prominent business men and capitalists organized the Bank of Commerce, which opened its doors to the public on April 1st. The new bank has a fine location—being on the corner of Second and Ohio streets—one of the best and most elegantly furnished banking rooms of any bank in the city, a large fire proof vault and time-lock burglar proof safe. It has a capital stock of $100,000, and numbers among its shareholders some of the best and strongest men in the city and county.

Its officers are John J. Yeater, president; Frank B. Meyer, vice-president, and Adam Ittel, cashier, all of whom are known and recognized as gentlemen of high integrity and fine business qualifications.

Mr. Ittel, the cashier, has been most prominently identified with the banking interests of this city and county for the past twenty-five years, and is eminently fitted and qualified for the responsible position he holds, and is recognized by the hundreds of people who have done business with him, and in financial circles, as a most accommodating, at the same time safe and conservative, bank officer, who thoroughly understands every detail of the banking business.

While the new bank has been open only two weeks, its books to-day will show over one hundred customers and a deposit of over $50,000, which is a showing that some banks have not made in a year's business, and shows the popularity and confidence placed in the new bank.

The Bank of Commerce will do a straight, legitimate banking business, accommodating all classes of the business interests, and especially the farmers and stock men.

Ladies who wish to open an account with it will be given every attention.

The success of the Bank of Commerce is assured from the start.

A handsomely engraved appointment, resplendent with a gold seal and covered with official signatures, has been received by County Treasurer Joseph S. Hughes, stating that he has been appointed a member of the Advisory Council of the World's Congress Auxiliary on Farm Culture and Cereal Industry, and member of the World's Agricultural Congresses. The latter convenes in Chicago during the week commencing Monday, October 16, 1893. The meeting place of the former will be in the Live Stock Pavilion, just south of the Agricultural building, which will be open at all times from June 1st to October 1st, and daily talks by eminent men will be had in the Assembly hall of the Agricultural building. The World's Agricultural Congresses will be held in the Memorial Art Palace.

It is proposed to make these gatherings of agriculturists of international importance. Farmers from every state and all parts of the world will be present to become acquainted and exchange ideas. It requires, however, a letter of introduction to gain admittance. Once admitted, there are gentlemen who will take pleasure in making everybody feel at home. Any farmer in Pettis county by applying to County Treasurer Hughes will be given a letter of introduction and thereby enabled to take advantage of many things that will be of incalculable benefit to him.

The honor conferred upon our worthy citizen is one of which he may well be proud, and was a compliment from the chairman, Hon. Samuel W. Allerton.

ASPIRANTS for postoffices in Missouri should bear in mind the expressed desire of the administration that all of the present officials shall serve out the full term of four years unless charges are preferred against them. So that the nominations for county offices will have been made in 1894 before many of the republican officials step out, and in some cases the election of 1894 will have passed before vacancies occur. Thus it can be seen that no good and much harm can be accomplished by allowing the party to be torn into factions about offices that are not to be filled for one, two or three years.

THE announcement that cholera has been brought to Winnipeg, Manitoba, by immigrants emphasizes the danger that faces the United States. The government will use every precaution to prevent the introduction of the scourge, but it may reach the United States in spite of these precautions. Hence it is the duty of each individual to do his utmost to bring about in his own immediate vicinity those conditions most unfavorable to the introduction and spread of the disease. Scientific men agree that filth is the hotbed where cholera germs flourish; hence the yards, the alleys, the streets and the outhouses should be cleaned, kept clean and disinfected freely used. Then beware of the water you drink! Unless from a deep well uncontaminated by any impurity from the surface, all drinking water should be boiled and then put in bottles and tightly corked or sealed until used. Eat only well cooked, hot food.

AFTER his long absence in Washington, Hon. John T. Heard finds his private business so pressing as to fully occupy his time this week. As soon as the most pressing matters are attended to, however, he will be ready to devote his whole time to public matters and will in the future, as in the past, do his utmost to serve his constituents in any and every way. The matter of appointments, however, is not pressing, but, on the other hand, the departments are moving very slowly in the matter, and it is there, and not with the congressman, that the fault lies.

WHENEVER the working men in any industry have well founded causes of complaint and suffer actual injustice at the hands of their employers, they will be backed by public opinion. But such ill advised strikes as that lately witnessed on the World's Fair grounds at Chicago and on the Santa Fe do actual injury to the cause of labor, in that they cause the public to lose confidence in the good judgement or good intentions of the leaders who bring about the trouble.

It does not matter much who shall lead the movement for united political action in the west and south, but it is necessary that the movement be made. Massachusetts is entitled to no more consideration when it comes to governmental policies than is accorded to Illinois, Missouri or Texas.

THE World's Fair will do much to convince the nations of the world of the commercial importance of the west and south. But it is for those sections themselves to convince the northwest of their political importance. This can be done by unity of effort on the part of those whose interests are identical.

WASHINGTON advises say that the administration is anxious to bring about a reform of the tariff as speedily as possible. The people are with the administration in this matter, too.

THE CONFEDERATE HOME.

The Successful Work of Hal Reid, the St. Louis Actor--His Future Plans.

Hal Reid, the actor and playwright, who is remembered in this city as leading man in the Bertha Westbrook combination which visited Sedalia several years ago, has been in the city several days in the interest of the confederate home at Higginsville. Mr. Reid is the husband of Miss Westbrook, who is now at their home in St. Louis. In the cast at the time of their Sedalia visit was Walter Mathews, son of a rich tobacco merchant of Louisville, Ky., who had been brought out as a tragedian by John W. Norton, of St. Louis, but who never got beyond his swaddling clothes. Mr. Reid in a conversation to-day said:

"By individual effort I have succeeded in raising $27,000 for the endowment fund of the Confederate Home. I have done it by subscriptions and soliciting. A continued interest in the home is placing it upon a most solid basis. Next year it is my intention, if possible, to put a magnificent company of players on the road who will perform solely for the benefit of the Home. Tickets will be sent to the Daughters of the Confederacy at different points several weeks ahead of the company, and in this way large attendances can be assured. I may write the play myself. I have already written seventeen, my "La Belle Marie" being quite a success in the hands of Agnes Herndon. For the company next year, I have in mind a play that I would call "A Pauper Prince," and have for the story a highminded, unconstructed southern gentleman, of refined tastes and aristocratic manners, whose fortune has been swept away but who still endeavors to entertain his friends in the same magnificent and hospitable way for which he was noted before the war. Through the story a thread of love reaching the north would unite the two sections. I am confident that the plan is a feasible one.

THE RIGHT OF WAY.

Contractor J. B. Quigley Has Something to Say in Reference Thereto.

J. B. Quigley, who has the contract for the construction of the S., M. & N. railway, left for Kansas City Tuesday and will be at Springfield to-morrow to attend a meeting of the board of directors. Speaking in regard to the road, Mr. Quigley said this morning:

"The demand of $5,000 for the privilege of running through the Baker property is an outrage. The DEMOCRAT stated the facts precisely yesterday, and the people can readily see who is to blame in the premises. I think the matter will soon be settled, however, and then active operations will commence without further delay.

"We were prepared to begin work at Springfield also, but made the discovery that the right of way had not been secured, and so we were headed off there, too. At to-morrow's meeting of the board some important business will be transacted, and I have strong hopes that the right of way difficulty will be amicably settled."

The DEMOCRAT has heard it rumored that the depot for the new road will be located in the western portion of Sedalia, and those who own property in that locality are looking for a boom in consequence.

THE BOLDEST YET!

SAFE DRAWN FROM A STORE AND BLOWN OPEN.

Baird Bros., of Centerville, Report a Burglary to Chief of Police DeLong.

The boldest case of burglary and larceny that has been called to the attention of the DEMOCRAT in many months occurred at Centerville, about sixteen miles west of Warrensburg, on the Missouri Pacific, Monday night.

Baird Bros. keep a general merchandise establishment there, and it was their place that was visited. An entrance was gained by breaking in the front door, after which the thieves proceeded to help themselves.

There was a large safe in the store, but to blow it open where it stood might arouse the neighborhood, so strategy was resorted to. A horse and singletree were secured from a stable not far distant and taken to the store. Then several yards of rope was taken from a coil on the counter, and one end of it was fastened to the safe and the second end to the singletree.

Everything was now in readiness for moving the safe, and the horse was hitched to the singletree.

In this manner the safe, which was on wheels, was drawn from the store and down the railway track for a distance of 150 yards. At this point the safe was blown open and the thieves secured $45 in cash and about $100 worth of jewelry.

Mr. G. L. Baird, senior member of the firm, arrived here this morning and reported the case to Chief of Police DeLong, but it is hardly probable that the thieves came here. In fact, everything points to the work having been done by home talent, as a knife that was stolen from the firm when their store was robbed a few weeks ago was left on the scene of last night's robbery by the thieves.

Conductor Jim Merrifield learned of the crime when he passed through Centerville this morning, and says that for deliberateness and cool daring it takes the blue ribbon over any case that he has ever heard of in the state.

LUCKY CONDUCTORS.

Herrington and Pratt Receive $1,000 from the Pettis County Investment Co.

The DEMOCRAT desires to congratulate Conductors Harry Pratt and Jos. Herrington, who were Saturday paid $1,000 by the Pettis County Investment Company in payment of bond No. 2, which was held by them jointly in that company.

It was only the 15th of last November that the company established its business in Sedalia, and in the brief period that has since elapsed the record made is one that the officers have just reason of being proud of.

The company does a general business in Missouri and other States, and since the date named above has written over one million nine hundred thousand dollars ($1,900,000) worth of business.

Three bonds of $1,000 each have already matured and been paid, the beneficiaries being Hon. Mont. Carnes and Conductors Herrington and Pratt, of this city, and Chas. H. Malone, of St. Louis.

At the rate of increase in business since the organization of the company all bonds sold will mature and be paid in from two to three years, and the verdict of all who have investigated the matter is that as an investment neither banks nor building and loan associations can compare with it.

The reserve accumulation affords security to the investor equal to the best in the land, and the investors embrace bankers, lawyers, merchants, physicians, railroad men and representatives in all of the other vocations of life.

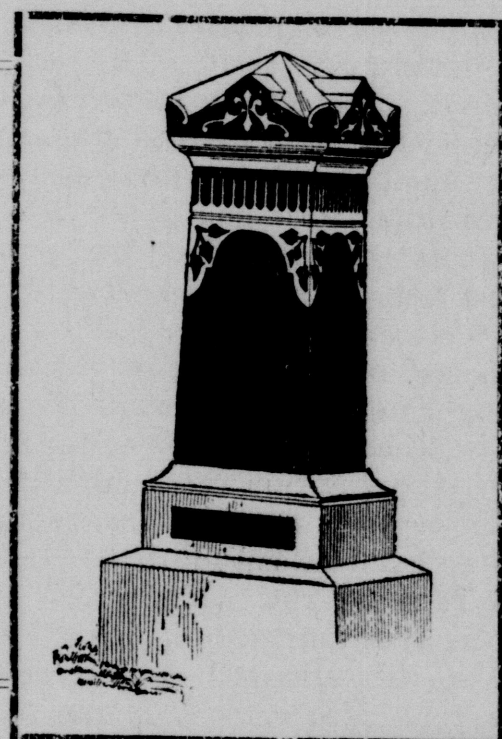

The Pettis County Investment Co. already has a strong foothold in Sedalia, and its popularity is daily increasing. Its officers are: J. W. Corkins, president; R. L. Maupin, vice president; Robert Taylor, secretary.

There Were No Majors.

When Col. J. J. Frey, the new manager of the Santa Fe, arrived at Topeka last Sunday he did not know a person in the town, says the Parsons Sun. In the evening he was sitting in the Copeland talking to a gentleman who had been introduced to him by the clerk. Judge J. H. Ellis, of Beloit, came in and was introduced to Col. Frey. Presently Judge John Guthrie strolled in and he was presented to

ELLIS AND THE "ELDER."

The Former Presents the Latter With a Beautiful Ring.

"Elder" Ed. R. Marvin, Pettis county's efficient deputy circuit clerk, isn't rattled very often, but he was the victim of a large case of it Saturday evening.

After criminal court had adjourned the "elder" dropped into Sicher's, when he was called to one side by ex-Sheriff Smith, who presented him with a handsome ring, bearing a beautifully designed letter "M" in gold and set in black onyx.

The "elder" is seldom at a loss for words, but he was on this occasion. He accepted the gift, however, and it is safe to say that he will wear it as long as life lasts.

For nearly three years Mr. Smith and the "elder" were thrown into contact daily by their respective duties at the court house, and it was because of the official favors extended by the "elder" that he was so handsomely remembered last night.

FRED GIESINGER AND J. S. DAVIS MISSING.

A FORFEITURE IS TAKEN.

The Proceedings Had in the Pettis County Criminal Court This Morning.

In the criminal court, this morning, a 16-year-old boy, the son of one of Sedalia's most popular merchants, was ordered sent to the state reformatory school, where he will not have an opportunity of jumping on moving trains, of which offense he has been guilty here.

In two cases against J. S. Davis, a former merchant of Pettis county, who is charged with obtaining goods from Sedalia merchants by false representations, a forfeiture of recognizance was taken, with leave to move to set the same aside, and scire facias and alias capias ordered, returnable at the next term.

A forfeiture of recognizance was also taken in five cases against Fred Geisinger and his surety, Frank A. Thias, in five cases for grand larceny, the total being $1,400.

The case of the city of Sedalia vs. Sherman and Jennie Jackson, appealed, charged with disturbing the peace, was tried and the defendants fined $10 and $5, respectively. An appeal was taken to the court of appeals of Kansas.

A nolle prosequere was entered in the case of the State vs. Alexander Bengley, charged with permitting a gaming table on his premises.

In two cases against P. C. Tombs, charged with obtaining goods under false pretences, were continued generally, and defendant gave bond in $500 in each case.

The motion for a new trial in the Robert Gibbs rape case was overruled. Gibbs will now go to the penitentiary for five years.

The petit jury was discharged and paid off by Clerk Fowler.

R. L. Phillips and W. F. Lawrence, ten days each for vagrancy; and Chas. Umbles, eleven days for petit larceny, were discharged from jail to-day under the insolvent act. Court adjourned until 9 o'clock to-morrow morning.

Other Cases.

Other proceedings were had Saturday, as follows:

George Gammon was discharged from jail under the insolvent act, after having served ten days for shooting at James Gossage.

Alva Woodward, charged with assaulting Mrs. W. M. Lyons, of Lamonte, with intent to rape, was arraigned. He waived the reading of the indictment, entered a plea of not guilty, and gave bond in the sum of $1,000 for his appearance at the next term of court.

In the case of the state vs. Robert Gibbs, convicted of assault on rape and sentenced to five years, imprisonment in the penitentiary, a motion for a new trial was filed.

The case of the state vs. Frederick Schach, charged with obstructing a public highway, a second offense, was set for Wednesday next, and the personal recognizance of the defendant was taken in the sum of $250.

Adjourned until 9 o'clock Monday morning.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK.

An Institution of Which Every Sedalian Feels Justly Proud.

The oldest bank in the city, as well as the largest, is the First National, with a paid up capital of $250,000 and a history almost co-extensive with that of the city itself and a career of usefulness second to no similar institution in the west.

This bank was established in 1866, with its present president, Mr. Cyrus Newkirk, at its head. It grew and prospered with the community and has ever been foremost in aiding and encouraging every enterprise that promised to benefit Sedalia. The enterprise, the sagacity and the broad and liberal policy of this bank is typical of the Queen City herself, and as Sedalia is known far and wide for her vim and enterprise, so is the First National bank recognized as one of the safe, solid, prosperous financial institutions of the west.

Its capital of $250,000 gives it a large field of usefulness and its officers, its quarters and equipments are all worthy of its history.

Mr. Cyrus Newkirk, the president, is one of the oldest and best known citizens of Sedalia, and for integrity and business sagacity no man in the state stands higher. He has been connected with all of the great enterprises that have transformed the village twenty-five years ago into the magnificent city of to-day.

Mr. J. C. Thompson, the present cashier of the First National, has filled that position for eighteen years and during that long period his remarkably good judgment, his untiring energy, and his accurate business methods have not only contributed in a very great degree to the growth and prosperity of the bank itself, but have been unsparingly given in behalf of every public enterprise of which Sedalia can boast. No man can do more for the advancement and progress of the community than can an intelligent, conscientious and public-spirited banker, and no man ever performed this duty to the community with more fidelity and better judgment than J. C. Thompson, and, it can be truthfully said, his work is appreciated both at home and no man in the west stands higher in financial circles.

Mr. Fred Guenther, assistant cashier, has been connected with the First National for more than twenty years and has justly earned the high rank he enjoys among the business men of Sedalia. His conscientious and faithful services are appreciated both by the public and by his associates.

A RAGING FIRE.

GREAT DISTRESS AMONG CASSVILLE PEOPLE.

A Loss of $200,000, With Small Amount of Insurance—At an Early Hour.

CASSVILLE, Mo., April 18.—All of the business houses of Cassville, Mo., were destroyed by fire at an early hour this morning. The town is a mass of smouldering ruins, and business is paralyzed.

The loss includes two banks and two newspaper offices. The fire was discovered at 1 o'clock a. m., when the people were asleep, and was beyond control in a short time.

LYNCHING IN NEW MEXICO.

A Murderer Captured by a Mob and Shot to Pieces.

KINGSTON, N. M., April 17.—News of murder and lynching in the little town of Monticello has been received here.

William Hardin, the foreman of a cattle company, was in town and became intoxicated. To make a display, he attempted to take a six shooter away from Ed Simmons. Simmons resisted and a struggle ensued, when a Mexican interfered and Hardin shot the Mexican. The murderer made his escape to the mountains, a short distance away, where he was captured by a mob and shot, and his body mutilated in a horrible manner.

BLOODY RIOT.

Fatal Affray Between Drunken Huns and Poles.

WILKELBARRE, Pa., April 17.—A bloody riot took place at Plymouth, about four miles from here, at an early hour yesterday morning. The mob engaged in the fracas were all Huns and Poles who were under the influence of liquor. Revolvers, clubs and stones were freely used upon each other's heads until the police made a raid upon them. Six of the combatants were arrested, and several made their escape. One man, known as Stanislaus Jacobofsky, was found lying on the ground unconscious with his skull crushed. He died later.

Robbed a Farm House.

Two tramps made a successful raid last night upon a farm house near that of Rollie Elliott, 5 miles east of Sedalia. They secured nothing beyond a few notions.

Just Married!

If this covers your case or if you are contemplating such a step, first see Will Woods at 108 East Fifth street, and let him give you the cost of a 15—20 or 25 year endowment life insurance policy in "The Travelers," the Company which wrote more life insurance during 1892 than any other Company in existence. Old men will tell you you cannot better invest your money.

Transfers of Realty.

The following transfers of realty were filed for record to-day:

Francis A. Logan and wife to Kate Augustus, lots 1 and 2, block 4, Green Ridge; $1375.

Donnohue & Hughes to Rebecca J. Churchill, lot 13 of Donnohue & Hughes' sub-division of lot 5, East Sedalia; $150.

John S. Banks and Addie Banks, 440 acres of land three and a half miles from Sedalia; $16,000.

W. C. and G. W. Overstreet to Annie C. Sheaman, lots 4, 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9, block 1, Smithton; also lots 3, 4, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14 and 15, block 10, Smithton; $1500.

FARNHAM & CRAWFORD,

A traveler sat with his girl on his lap,
Her lily fair cheek on his shoulder,
And while she lay meek as a mouse in a trap,
It required both his strong arms to hold her,
The gas dimly burned,
So low was it turned,
And cast a dull glare o'er the scene,
When a resounding smack,
Took the drummer aback,
And he asked the girl what did she mean.
The action, though slight, put the girl in a plight.
But the answer she made was quite ample:
"I'm returning those kisses you gave me last night,
For I find they were not up to sample."

But this furniture never gives trouble,
It is guaranteed to carry "double,"
And we bought it at FARNHAM & CRAWFORD'S,
Who are selling the best goods at the lowest prices.

Oh, Mamma! How pretty this glass makes me look. Where did you get it?

My dear, I bought it at Farnham & Crawford's.

Did you get that nice bed there too?

Yes, I bought one of those nice oak suits that they are selling so cheap. Your papa always wants to buy everything there, because he can get such bargains.

Official Paper of the City of Sedalia.

RELIABLE AND NEWSY!

THE DAILY DEMOCRAT.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

This issue of the WEEKLY DEMOCRAT is sent to many who are not regular readers of the paper.

It is sent as a sample, free of charge, that you may examine it and if favorably impressed become one of its regular readers.

The DEMOCRAT has met a most cordial reception from the good people of Sedalia and Pettis county, but the circulation of the WEEKLY DEMOCRAT has not yet reached the high-water mark.

The low price at which the paper is published places it within the reach of all, and to those who have not yet become regular readers this is intended as an invitation to do so, provided they like the paper and think it worth the subscription price.

Now let's have that north and south railroad.

Quite a touch of winter for the latter part of April.

GENTLEMEN, agree upon some plan for a convention hall and build it this year.

SINCE nature has done her part toward cleaning the city let every citizen now take up the good work.

SECRETARY CARLISLE does not appear to be as plastic as many persons in the east supposed he would be.

THE weather clerk has materially assisted in cleaning up the town by sending a small deluge to wash the streets and flush the sewers.

THE ghost of what was once a popular paper here in Sedalia is positive proof that there is no such thing as perpetual motion in journalism.

CHARLEY UMBLES' organ is now in for a fight to the death with Mr. Geo. Dugan. At last accounts the principal sufferer was the republican party of Sedalia.

MANY Sedalians have mailed to friends in other places copies of last Sunday's DEMOCRAT and are kind enough to say that they regard it as a splendid advertisement of Sedalia. The DEMOCRAT intends to do a great deal of that kind of work in the future and hopes to be of some assistance in the work of directing attention to Sedalia both as a desirable place to live and as a field for profitable investment. There is every reason why Sedalians should be proud of their city and no cause for them to be ashamed of her progress, her present condition or her future prospects.

THE effort to ostracize any religious denomination in this country or debar a man from the privileges of citizenship because he belongs to or sympathizes with any particular denomination, is a work that no good citizen should encourage. Fanaticism is rapidly dying out and every year it becomes plainer that it is crime and sin that should be fought to the death rather than any particular church. The sincere protestant and the devout catholic are each striving for the same end and should be taught to love and respect each other rather than to hate and abuse.

THE Kansas City Star has the following bearing upon a subject that Sedalia will some day have to consider: "Pittsburg is one of the cities that has adopted the garbage-burning system; that is, fifty tons a day are burned and 250 tons are supposed to be shipped, but the call is loud and continuous that all the garbage shall be consumed by fire. When a city enters upon the work of keeping clean the best and most economical policy is to be thorough about it. Half measures do not give satisfaction, and cost more in the long run."

THERE is no occasion why even the rankest partisan should be alarmed at the meeting of southern governors. If it is treason for the executive officers of various states to meet and discuss business problems affecting the prosperity and development of the commonwealths they represent, it is such a mild sort of crime that the public will hardly become excited enough to demand that the troops be called out.

ANOTHER proof that the manufacturers of the country are not at all afraid that the legitimate business will be injured by tariff reform is found in the fact that a great syndicate is about to purchase vast iron interests in the Mahoning valley and will invest many millions in improvements. Manufacturers will flourish under a wise reform of the tariff and manufacturers understand it.

SECRETARY CARLISLE can count upon the support, moral and otherwise, of the great mass of the American people in any contest he may wage to break the control Wall Street has so long exercised over the finances of the country. If he will proceed to redeem the Sherman notes in silver coin, as he has the right to do, he will be simply teaching Wall Street a needed lesson.

THE DEMOCRAT has the consolation of knowing that the public endorses its position on the paving question. The policy suggested is one that will encourage street improvement, whereas the attempt to put down costly streets where the price of property is low will only result in retarding needed improvements that the people can afford to pay for.

It is estimated that the newspapers of the country have received "free passes" to the world's fair aggregating in value $802,500. On the other hand, these papers have given the fair free advertising aggregating $80,250,000. Thus again demonstrating that a "free pass" is about the most costly thing a newspaper man can carry.

THE public will be glad to learn that Mr. George Gould will prosecute the broker who started the sensational story so injurious to the credit of the Missouri Pacific. The business interests of millions of people are intimately connected with the road and an injury to the one necessarily affects the other.

THE administration at Washington should understand that there are good, competent, honest Missouri democrats in sufficient numbers not only to fill all vacancies that can be conveniently made in the local federal offices, but to materially help Uncle Sam in supplying worthy officials to send abroad.

THE revolution in Belgium, for it was nothing less, has succeeded and the chamber of deputies has passed the universal suffrage bill whose defeat caused the outbreak. The revolution was short but bloody, and its influence upon political and industrial conditions in Europe will not be inconsiderable.

THE working men employed by any great corporation can gain far more by a frank and fair statement of grievances and an appeal thereon to public opinion than they can hope to gain by a strike which injures themselves and their friends—the public—far more than it injures the corporation.

THE statement that the "free gold in the treasury is exhausted" does not mean bankruptcy by any means. As long as there is "free silver in the treasury" Uncle Sam can pay his debts, and when that is exhausted his credit is good enough to float a good many million greenbacks.

THE complaint is made by residents of certain portions of the city that persons engaged in hauling off filth and litter "dump" it upon convenient vacant lots or in ditches or gullies within the city limits. The practice is liable to create disease-breeding nuisances and should be stopped at once.

MISSOURI must wait for her new constitution until after the next election, but the question will be discussed more generally in 1894 than it was in 1892, and the more it is discussed the greater the probability that a constitutional convention will be called.

EVERY conservative business man, as well as every conservative working man, should discourage the two prevalent tendency toward strikes that seems to exist this year. It is to arbitration and not to force that we must look for the settlement of disputes between capital and labor.

EVEN the Globe-Democrat calls upon Secretary Carlisle to redeem the Sherman notes in silver. When the government begins to treat silver coin as money and ceases to discriminate against it we will hear less of threatened panics and of the "depreciation" of silver.

NEWSPAPERS should be careful about publishing sensational articles impeaching the financial standing of business enterprises. It is frequently the case that an enterprise or an investment is ruined by reckless newspaper discussion of its solvency.

THE news comes from Washington that General Gooding, the well known St. Louis politician, is about to be placed under police restraint. He walks around Washington armed to the teeth and makes violent threats against several senators and others.

THE rapid growth of the DEMOCRAT both in circulation and advertising demonstrates that there was a field for the paper here in Sedalia, and there is no occasion for the insane jealousy that seems to inspire a certain contemporary.

THE Washington correspondent of the Republic thinks it certain that Col. Dick Dalton will be appointed to the St. Louis surveyorship this week.

THE Missouri delegation in congress is solid, or almost so, upon the great questions which affect the interests of their constituents.

JUDGE JAS. P. ROSS, one of the pioneers of Morgan county, died in Versailles Tuesday at the ripe age of eighty-three.

Election of Officers.

THE Equitable Loan and Investment Association held its election yesterday. There were no changes in the roster, which is as follows: E. E. Johnston, president; C. B. Rodes, secretary; J. C. Thompson, treasurer; directors, J. H. Doyle, J. H. Rodes, W. D. Fellows, John Montgomery, jr. J. H. Rodes, attorney.

THE Equitable is in a most flourishing condition. It has prospered to an astonishing degree and the gentlemen who have directed its affairs can point with a pardonable pride to its record.

RAVAGES OF THE WIND.

P. D. Hastain Gives Particulars of the Late Storm in Benton County.

Hon. P. D. Hastain returned from Warsaw Tuesday and relates several interesting details of the ravages of last week's tornado in Benton county. The cyclone struck the Osage river a short distance below Warsaw and fairly wiped from the face of the earth every tree on both banks of the stream. It traveled down the river for a distance of about a mile, leaving ruin and desolation in its path.

When a bend in the river was struck the wind switched off and the first serious damage it did was on the farm of James Riddle, two miles southeast of Warsaw. His barn was scattered to the four corners of the earth, fences were laid low, and trees two and three feet through were torn up by the roots and carried hundreds of yards by the wind, while others were snapped in twain like they were pipe stems. Mr. Riddle had two horses killed by being caught under the ruins of his barn, but all of the members of his family escaped injury.

The farm of Jerry Savage, adjoining that of Mr. Riddle, next afforded a path for the cyclone. His barn was picked up by the wind and landed upside down in the middle of the public road near by, and three horses were killed instantly.

Mr. Savage had two fine orchards, and both were utterly ruined, one of 250 trees being left without so much as a tree standing.

On the farm of Daniel Griffith, who is employed in the Missouri Pacific shops here, a barn was demolished, fences blown down and trees uprooted, but no one was injured.

The storm was the most severe ever known in that section, but so far as Mr. Hastain was able to learn no human lives were lost.

Can Play Ball on Sunday.

"I notice the question has been raised as to the legality of playing base ball in Missouri on Sunday," said a prominent attorney to-day. "This question has been effectually decided by a recent decision of the supreme court which declares that there are no prohibitory statutes against it."

Held for the Grand Jury.

Wm. Grubb and Harry Thompson, charged with robbing the farm house of J. W. Driver, located about three miles east of Sedalia, last Sunday, had a preliminary hearing before Justice Fisher this morning. Both were held for the grand jury and in default of $500 bail were sent to jail where they will remain six months, the next term being in November.

College Foot-Ball.

A match game of foot-ball will be played at Association park in this city on April 29th next, between the Second Eleven of the Missouri state university and the Eleven of the Marmaduke Military academy. The state university is a member of the Western University Foot-Ball association, of which the respective universities of the states of Illinois, Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska are also members. In order to encourage college athletics in this state the authorities of the Missouri university have given consent to the Second Eleven to play all colleges and academies in Missouri. This Second Eleven is organized as a practice Eleven for the regular university team and are of course proficient in the game. The DEMOCRAT notes with pleasure that the opening game of this series has been located at Sedalia, as the games are usually played in St. Louis and Kansas City alone. In due time and before the game the DEMOCRAT will give more extended notice of the game and its peculiar features.

HOME FROM COLORADO.

The "Tiger" Mine, in Which the Ilgenfrits Brothers Are Largely Interested.

C. E. Ilgenfritz returned at midnight Wednesday from Colorado, where he was called to look after litigation in connection with the Tiger silver mine, located on Sugar Loaf mountain, not far from Leadville.

As will be remembered by many Sedalians, litigation has been in progress for the past ten years as to the ownership of the property, which is claimed by the Ilgenfrits, and which was once accorded them by a decision of the supreme court of Colorado.

The case has had a remarkable history. It was tried twice in the circuit court at Leadville and then taken to the supreme court, when the decision was in favor of Ilgenfritz. A rehearing was granted, however, and the trial resulted in a hung jury. By agreement the case has now been submitted to one of the supreme judges on briefs, and the decision rendered will be final.

In addition to the ownership of the property that is involved, there is $42,000 in the hands of the receivers that will go with the property—a right snug sum to fight for.

Released From Jail.

The following prisoners were released from jail to-day: Ed. Harris, colored, ten days for shooting at his wife; John Nelson, colored, ten days, petit larceny; Joe McLaughlin, ten days, petit larceny.

NOTES OF THE MODES

URGENT FASHIONS FOR FAIR WOMAN'S FANCY.

An Empire Tea Gown—Costumes in Cashmere—Flannel Bed or Dressing Gowns—The Next Thing is the Pannier—Lace Capes for Summer Wear.

The Next Thing Is the Pannier.

Although panniers are not yet openly favored by fashion there are some indications that before the season is over they may be arrived at by indirect ways. Lace is gathered in a deep lounce to the edge of the round waist in Russian style. It is also set on the outside of the edge of the bodice, gathered full and turned up edge to edge, then dropped over the seam to have the effect of a puffing. It is applied in the same manner on Princess dresses. Wider lace is used on dinner and evening toilets, this occasionally forming pannier-like draperies that terminate in long ends on the back, caught to the dress by bows of handsome ribbon. The use of lace will constantly increase from this time on, throughout the spring and summer, forming tabliers, jabots on both skirt and bodice, and plaited in fans and coquille ruffles to increase the flaring effect on the bottom of the dress. Very short-trimmed bell skirts will have the flounce all around the hems, while demi-trains and full trains for brides and dowagers will have it only on the front and leaving the sweeping breadths untrimmed.

Flannel Bed or Dressing Jacket.

A flannel jacket of the short loose type with roomy sleeves is invaluable for winter wear, and may be worn in bed over the night dress; or is equally suitable as a dressing coat, or as a morning wrap when breakfasting in the bedroom. Colored flannel is smart and pretty, or flannelettes, or cream white flannelette, which makes up lightly with silk machine stitching, or with feather-stitching in crewel or embroidery silk.

The yoke can be made double, or lined with thin cambric and feather-stitched round; but the frills may be stitched by machine, and put on slightly full. There is no lining in the lower part, and a ribbon is fastened in the back at about the waist line, and thus drawn around to the front shapes the jacket.

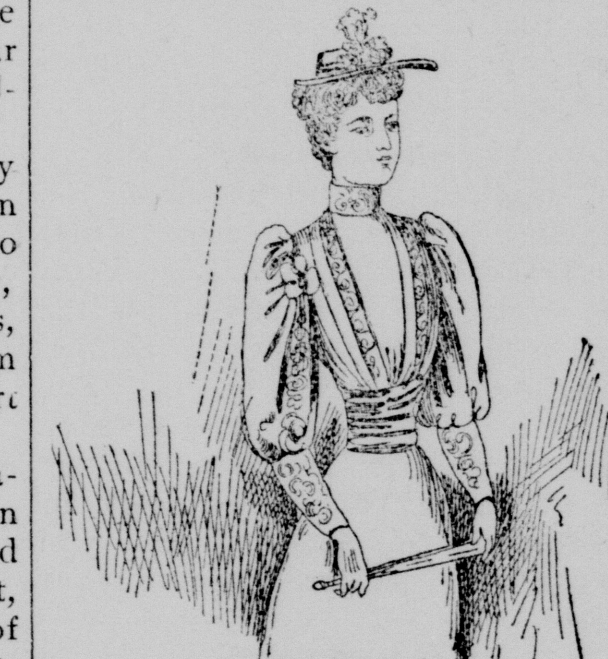

The sleeves are wide and loose and made without any outer seam. The front part is open from the bend of the arm, which is a comfortable arrangement, as there is nothing to hamper the arms when raised for dressing the hair. This jacket is equally suitable for large or small figures and the pattern will be kept in several sizes.

Lace Capes for Summer Wear.

Lace capes fashioned much like the winter models with velvet or jetted yokes and collars, have made their appearance, like many other of the season's fashions, long before they are required. These capes are very handsome indeed, especially those which are only garnished with expensive cut jet ornaments and fringes. Some costly French capes have yokes and collars of gold and jet net, dotted with cabochons, and a few models are lined throughout with rows of jetted galloon in stripes falling over the cape from the yoke. The cape is thus stiffened to such an extent that it falls in lines that are altogether different from the soft, natural folds in which lace should fall.

Cashmere Costumes.

Embroidered cashmeres make a pretty costume like the illustration. These come in sets for that purpose in a variety of delicate shades ornamented with needle-work. The sash belt is of wide moire of the tint of the embroidery. The embroidery is inserted in the under side of the sleeve, and the cuffs are made to match it, as is the collar. The skirt to this should be made plain with two rows of the embroidery around the bottom.

Stylish Redingote Gown.

The new stylish redingote dresses of faille, with petit pois satin dots and a satin striped brocade, are among the positively attractive dresses of the season. As a rule these dresses are simply made. For dinner and other uses they open in front over lace-trimmed underskirts. Street redingotes of checked tweed or striped camel's hair have jacket fronts opening over bungalow line shirt waists finished with a rather high corselet of the wool goods. One effective costume shows a pale corn-colored c'oth vest, with panel of the same down the left side of the skirt. The galloon which decorates the vest and panel reproduces the tweed's colors, which are mushroom, old pink and olive green.

An Empire Tea Gown.

The "Empire" is the most graceful of tea gowns. An exquisite garment made after this design has the foundation robe of clinging black China silk. The square yoke is of black lace brilliantly wrought with jewels. From this yoke hangs a loose, straight drapery of accordion-plaited sole de Chine of a faint jacqueminot tint, fuffed on the yoke.

An odd-shaped girdle formed of black watered ribbon is fastened over the bust. The sleeves are of jacqueminot-tinted silk, arranged in puffs and finished by a deep flaring frill of black jeweled lace.

The Bodice in Its Variety.

Although for the moment there are plenty of rumors but no radical changes or deviations in the general line upon which fashions are moving, there is an endless series of innovations in minor characteristics. Taking the one item of the corsage, the styles are legion. Very often the modiste selects the sleeves of one model, the fronts of another, the back of a third, creating a novel style of her own, and this quite frequently from remnants of various novel and dainty fabrics, combining them with such picturesque effect that they outlive many a more expensive garment made of a single material and from a familiar pattern.

Some Fashion Notes.

The latest fad in hair-dressing is a cleverly contrived wire frame, upon which a crimped switch can be easily arranged into a light and graceful chignon.

Pear-shaped pieces of jet are in great vogue, as are also jet ornaments in the shape of a wing or fan. In small, long-eared shapes are gold bonnets of bullion in arabesques. These are richly combined with pearls and jet.

The first rule of the London Short Skirt League is that each member shall pledge herself not to wear a walking gown with a skirt less than five inches off the ground. It would seem that the dictates of fashion are about to re-enforce this rule.

Among the most elegant imported velvet capes are those reaching only to the waist line, in violet, green and iridescent shades. A beautiful model of this sort has an overcape of passementerie in waved cords, which nearly covers the velvet.

A fetching though somewhat striking coat recently imported is of tan cloth, with collar and revers of Scotch plaid velvet, the loose fronts meeting across the chest, where they are fastened with a short chain of fine steel, with a bar at each end.

For both hats and bonnets are plaited velvet Alsation bows of great size, with a buckle in the strap. Accordion plaited velvet is also used for choux and for covering or facing brims. Alsation bows of accordion plaited lace are also seen on some of the newest millinery.

Pingao is making short jackets to accompany the shortened skirts of street suits. The average length of these street garments is from twenty-eight to thirty inches. One of these jackets is of tan cloth with revers and mutton-leg sleeves of ribbed tan-colored velvet shot with green.

As sleeves are not abating in size, capes, as a natural consequence, remain with us, as no other wrap can successfully be worn with them. Those recently imported are in a great variety of sizes and materials; cloth capes will, however be most used, tan and blue in grayish shades being the popular colors.

While the poke is the pronounced features of the season's millinery, dress bonnets are very small, though somewhat long on the sides. Many of these dainty bonnets are of jet, mixed with colored stones, as either amethyst or emerald and jet. They are trimmed with flower sprays and high aigrettes.

A favorite material for the fashionable empire coat is sicilienne in various conservative colors. These coats have a fitted yoke, with the lower part falling in two plaits in front and two in the back. Often deep rain fringe hangs from the yoke. This fringe is of beads that correspond with the material in color.

It is not uncommon at an evening function to see ranged together three women garmented in three distinct eras. For example, the first empire, with its unbroken lines; the superb costume of the time of Anne of Austria, with its Medici collar, and the 1830 costume, with round bertha of lace, accompanied by sandal shoes.

A pet dog, it is said, recently died at Elkton, Ky., from licking his mistress' cheek. She painted, and the dog died of poison.

But one in seven of the adult male wage-workers in Great Britain belongs to a trades union. Yet the strikes or galvanized by the unions in 1880 and 1891 cost the wage-earners about $9,000,000.

A CLERK TALKS.

He States the Object of the Organization in This City—Hot Agitation.

"The Clerks' Social Organization of Sedalia is not organized for the purpose of antagonizing or imposing upon anyone," said a well known member of the order to-day. "We want it distinctly understood that we are not cranks and that we have no axe to grind at the expense of other people. By organization we believe that the clerks can secure for themselves a consideration to which they are justly entitled and which they could not otherwise secure. They can assist in Sedalia's progress by uniting their efforts for common cause and can thus be of a commercial value to the city. There is also a humanitarian clause in our constitution that sets aside not less than $2 a week for sick benefits and also provides a nurse during the illness of the members. The sum of $50 is set aside for funeral expenses in case of death. Any member in good standing who is out of a job will be looked after by the organization and a position secured for him if possible.

"Socially, the organization provides many pleasant evenings for its tired and hard-worked members. Entertainments are given at intervals to which the sweethearts and wives and friends are invited. We pride ourselves upon this part of the organization and deem it one of the most important features."

Written for the DEMOCRAT.

Irresponsible Journalism.

It is always a matter of regret when a malicious, irresponsible person gains access to any public position, but in no place can a mean-souled individual so fully give play to his lack of principle as when in the field of journalism. This noble profession should be open only to men of the purest minds and largest hearts, and the untruthful, spiteful and ill-bred man should be debarred from engaging in this responsible avocation. It is natural for a narrow-minded, contemptible man to be suspicious of others, and to charge men with crimes he would not himself hesitate to commit were a like opportunity offered, and to measure all other men by his own contemptible standard of honesty.

Any newspaper that will stoop to pick up and repeat in print the unauthenticated rumors set afloat—they know not how, and with no better authority than "We are told," "It is rumored," and "We understand," attempt to blacken and injure personal reputation, deserves the condemnation of all fair-minded persons, because it sinks beneath the level of honorable journalism and becomes merely an organ of envy and spite. A newspaper statement, charging citizens with dishonest or dishonorable conduct, should be sustained by the most unquestionable authority; it should not emanate from the slums, nor bear the mark of malice; neither ought any man who is not himself above reproach pose before the public as a rampant reformer of its morals.

A public journal, with men of this stamp to conduct it, is of just about as much consequence in any community as a meddlesome, gossiping old woman would be, and if the "Mother Grundys" of the press were an extinct class the grand profession of journalism would rise to its rightful dignity. VINDEX.

Snow Fell This Morning.

Conductor John McConnell, who brought the "Katy" passenger train in from the north this morning, reports that there was a considerable fall of snow at Higbee at 6 o'clock this morning. The rain extended as far north as Hannibal, but no damage by the wind was reported along the north line of the M., K. & T.

Change in Express Circles.

W. H. Wallace, agent for the America Express Co., will exchange work with Messenger Joe Kolkm er, who has a run between Sedalia and Denison. Mr. Wallace thinks that a short season of road work will prove beneficial to his health, and hence the change.

The Cost of Rubber Shoes.

"I am not surprised that the people are crying out against the oppressions of monopoly," said a gentleman to a DEMOCRAT representative this morning. "The heavy rain to-day found me without rubbers, and I immediately sought a shoe store. I was surprised to find that the price of rubber shoes had risen from 25 to 40 per cent above the usual price. Shoes that I purchased this winter for 75 cents, now cost a dollar. The extortion has been brought about by a combine of all the big rubber houses in the country. Give me anti-monopoly legislation; the people are demanding it and will have it."

Changed the Date.

Peter Jackson, the colored pugilist, has changed the date for his appearance at Wood's opera house, and will make his bow Monday

Reduced prices on Spring Wraps will range from $2.48 up to $15.00 this week. If in need of a garment, right now is the time to buy.

Our Great SALE

During this entire week will be the talk of the town. Our entire second spring purchase has been received and to-day we inaugurate the greatest sale ever conducted in Central Missouri.

night instead of Tuesday night. But Peter will not be the only attraction to the sporting public, for with him come Charles E. Davies, known from world's end to world's end as the "Parson," his manager, and genial, indomitable Joseph Bartlett Choyinski, his sparring partner, who is just now panning to get a whack at Robert Fitzsimmons' jaw, and both of whom will assist the colored pugilistic actor in Harriet Beecher Stowe's creation. The Parson will do the auctioneer, while Joseph Bartlett will execute the role of Haley, the slave driver.

The Missouri Breaks the Record.

B. F. Holway, the horseman, was in town Thursday and said that about all the farmers were doing at present was to stay by the fire and keep warm. He was of the opinion that corn planted in March and not up yet would have to be replanted. The present heavy rains will have a tendency to cause the corn to rot. The fruit on Mr. Holway's farm, so far, has not been injured in the least. All of the small streams are out of their banks, Flat creek being on a regular rampage. Mr. Holway stated that this morning the Missouri river was higher than it had been in April for thirty years.

DIDN'T KNOW IRA.

The Experience of a Sedalia Male Buyer at Appleton City Some Time Ago.

"Years ago when I used to go away on a mule buying trip," said Ira Hinsdale to a DEMOCRAT reporter, "I always carried a grip filled with ready cash to pay for my purchases, and I was scared half to death from the time that I left home until I returned. Now, however, it is different, for I pay with checks for every animal that I buy, and if a man was to hold me up and rob me he wouldn't get more than two bits."

"I'll never forget a little experience I had at Appleton City some time ago," continued Mr. Hinsdale, after he had lighted a fresh cigar furnished by the reporter. "I had purchased a span of mules and gave a check in payment for them."

"The farmer hastened to the bank and presented the check, but the cashier declined to cash it, saying that he didn't know me from Adam. I got hot when the farmer sought me and complained, but didn't say much. I lost no time in getting to the bank, however, when I threw down a dollar and asked the cashier to spend it in telegraphing to Sedalia and inquiring of the First National bank as to whether I was all right. He did so, and the reply must have been satisfactory, I guess, for the check was paid, and the cashier informed me that I could exchange them to the amount of $10,000 if I wanted to."

Transfers of Realty.

The following transfers of realty were filed to-day:

Wm. H. Hammons to Chas. Ludwig, lot 17, block 6, Heard's addition to East Sedalia; $400.

Sarah J. Dillon to Iba J. Noel, 2½ acres in section 34, township 46, range 21; $800.

Doing a Good Business.

Col. Jos. White returned from St. Louis on the early morning train, to which place he had accompanied his wife who was on her way to visit relatives at Pana, Ill. While in St. Louis, Col. White succeeded in making a highly successful business transaction by which he sold a large quantity of his hedge fence. He reports his business in a flourishing condition.

Ellis Smith Injured.

Ex-Sheriff Ellis R. Smith was splitting kindling at his house on West Third street, late Wednesday afternoon, when a splinter struck him in the left eye, with the result that the eye was badly injured. Dr. S. K. Crawford dressed the wound, and it is believed the sight will not be permanently injured.

Taken to Nevada.

Sheriff Porter and Deputy Sheriff Ramsey left Thursday for Nevada with Albert Mercer and Mary Myers who were adjudged insane yesterday, and who will be placed in the asylum there.

Filed for Record.

The will of Wm. G. Winchell was filed for record with Recorder Pilkington Thursday.

The Storm's Ravages.

The wind and rain storm Thursday night appears to have been general throughout Central Missouri, but so far as ascertained up to 3 o'clock p. m. no serious damage resulted. In the city, reports are numerous of trees, both fruit and shade, having been blown down, and several chimneys were demolished and awnings wrecked, but this is about the extent of the damage.

A DEMOCRAT IN CHARGE.

Complimentary Words for a Sedalia Gentleman.

J. J. Frey, the new general manager of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad, says Thursday's Kansas City Times, is a democrat. In politics he differs from any other prominent Santa Fe official who has ever done service in Kansas. In his ability as a "mixer" he resembles the company's general solicitor, George R. Peck, who now makes his headquarters in Chicago.

Mr. Frey has not been in the state long enough to be either a "stalwart" or a "fusionist." He is just a plain democrat fresh from Missouri, who is bound to take a deep interest in his party here, whether he takes an active part in its councils or not. If he should choose to meddle in politics General Manager Frey would undoubtedly soon become as prominent a figure in the democratic party of the state as George R. Peck is in the republican party.

Will Arrive in Two Weeks.

A letter from Col. John A. Hanney to a friend in this city states he will be home in two weeks and will make an onslaught into the fishing pools of the Niangua. He had many words of praise for the substantial progress being made by the DEMOCRAT.

A Murderer's Plea.

Chas. Banks, who killed Ike Palmer (both colored), is soliciting funds from all visitors to the jail, for the purpose of employing an attorney to assist Messrs. Whitsett & Hammer in defending the case. Contributions will be thankfully received, no matter how small.

Made Another Survey.

County Surveyor Stanley has made a second survey of the public road that runs through the land of Frederick Schach, south of town, and for which Mr. Schach was twice arrested for building a fence thereon and thus obstructing the highway. The second survey runs on the exact lines of the original one.

How Dick Puts in His Time.

Dick Robinson, the murderer of Johanna Schollman, and who was sentenced to be hanged June 2, was seen in the county jail this morning by a DEMOCRAT reporter.

"I am feeling very well," said Dick, "but it is a little chilly in here this morning. I put in my time talking with my cellmates, reading the newspapers that I can get hold of and sleeping. I don't care to say anything about my case," nor would he unbosom himself when interrogated on the subject.

ON THE TRAIN.

Two Women Who Hadn't Tasted Food for Four Hours.

"What in the world is the reason that women on a journey are always eating?" asked a perplexed conductor of a passenger with whom he was acquainted. "Now look at those two. They haven't been on the train ten minutes, and they are eating for all they are worth."

It was a fact. They had a lunch basket that could easily hold half a bushel, and one of the women was taking out the contents and passing them to her friend, who held a section of fried chicken in one hand and a piece of bread in the other.

"Have a pickle, Cynthia, do. And here is some jelly. Take a bit of this cold tongue. I just love cold tongue, don't you?"

"Yep," answered the other woman with her mouth full. "but lam afraid of robbing you dear."

"Oh, no, you're not. There's plenty of it, for I do so love to eat when I'm traveling. It gives me an appetite just to see a train of cars go by. Have a doughnut, and a piece of mince pie. And you must try my sweet rusk. Here it is by itself. I've some cold coffee, too. Have some, dear?"

"Idon't mind if I do," said the other between bites. Then they got right down to business and ate and ate while the provisions lasted.

Two hours later there were two women with heads bound up, and the whole car smelled of camphor, according to the Detroit Free Press. They were the same two women who had lunched early in the day, but they were limp and dispirited now.

"Oh," moaned one, "I never felt so wretched in my life. Lend me your smelling salts, dear. It always makes me sick to ride on the cars."

"Me, too," wailed the other one.

"I feel so deathly faint."

"No wonder, you poor thing. You haven't tasted food for four hours. We must eat to keep up our strength."

"That's so. I haven't a bit of appetite, but I suppose it's my duty to eat and brace up. It takes all one's strength to travel."

Then the lunch basket was produced, and they fell to as if famished.

A VOODOO'S PATENT POWDER.

It Scatters a Crowd of Negroes in a Police Station.

The desk sergeant at the Prince Street station had just finished his midnight lunch when the door burst open and a crowd of Thompson street colored people rushed in, all talking at once, says the New York Journal.

In the center of the crowd was a harmless-looking little gray-headed mulatto, whose bright, bead-like eyes roamed uneasily from one to another of the angry faces around him. On each side of him stood a big, brawny colored man, who kept a close watch of their prisoner, looking as if they expected him to disappear through the floor at any moment.

"This hear man's a voodoo, cap'n," said a woman as she pushed her way to the railing, "and we ain't had a day's luck since he came into our house more'n a month ago."

"He throwed some kind of dust on me over the banisters the other night and I lost my job in the mornin'," piped a voice from the back of the room.

"He's got the evil eye, sure," said another, "for he just looked at my baby once and the child tried to swallow a hair-brush five minutes afterwards and then fell off the rocking chair and knocked out foh teeth."

Everybody had some complaint or other to make against the frightened-looking little man, and then the blue-coated Solomon spoke:

"Step up here, my man," said he, "and let me hear what you've got to say for yourself."

This was what the little mulatto was waiting for, for the instant his captors released their grasp he ran his hand into the inside pocket of his long-tailed coat and drew out a white paper package, which he quickly opened, disclosing a quantity of pink-looking powder.

With a yell that awoke the echoes he dashed the powder into the air.

There was a combined rush for the door and ten seconds later the sergeant and the little gray-headed mulatto were alone together.

Wanted a Bottle of Saliva.

From a correspondence in possession of a local music firm it appears that words of three syllables are not understood throughout the length and breadth of the state of Minnesota. Some time ago the firm sold a piston-valve cornet to a young man in the rural districts and shortly after a letter was received from him asking what could be done to remedy the sticking of the valves. A reply was sent to him stating that oil would gum and aggravate the difficulty and that a little saliva properly applied would be the easiest way to make the instrument work easily. But this seemingly lucid explanation was not appreciated, for in the course of a few days still another letter was received from the purchaser of the cornet inclosing twenty-five cents and saying: "Inclosed find postal note for which please send me a bottle of saliva. Our drug store don't keep it."—Minneapolis Times.

NO BABY TALK.

This Leads to Stuttering and Stammering.

A stuttering man afforded S. W. Tracy, of Ogden, Utah, a subject for a lecture lately. "I was once a teacher for stuttering, and I know that among the many calamities incident to human nature there are few so distressing as confirmed stuttering. That variety which is attended with muscular contortions is especially distressing. Persons who have only occasionally met with cases of defective utterance in general society can have but a faint idea of the agony of its victims."

"Just think of being unable to give oral expression to your thoughts without subjecting yourselves to ridicule, for it is a fact that while the deaf mute is pitied, the stutterer is generally laughed at. Stuttering and stammering are terms that are confounded. They are not synonymous by any means. Stammering is an inability to properly enunciate certain elementary speech words; stuttering is a vicious utterance, manifested by frequent repetitions of initial or other elementary sounds. Both are caused by improperly acting muscles of the vocal cords, soft palate, tongue, cheeks, lips, etc. Some of these muscles are under easy control of the will."

"Over the muscles of the pharynx, the soft palate, and at the base of the tongue, which moves its root upward and downward, our power is not so complete, and this causes the affliction. Stammering children are often subjected to humiliation, or even cruelly treated. 'You can help it if you will,' is said to them dozens of times a day, and they are so afraid to speak that they become stupid and abashed. One great cause of defective articulation is the foolish manner in which children are talked to by ignorant nurses and fond mothers. When I hear a mother say to her child, 'Say tank oo, to de pretty lade—that's a little pet,' and so on, it makes my blood boil."

PRETTY DRESS FOR A GIRL.

draped waists of brilliant silk of wool; the graceful Princess dresses, are all worn alike by girls, their elder sisters and their mothers. An especially fashionable style of dress for girls at the present moment is the princess. This form readily yields itself to a great variety of pretty and becoming adjustments and still in effect is simple, which is especially desirable in a girl's dress. The costume illustrated is a princess of navy-blue cloth. The skirt is trimmed at the foot with a band of fur, although any other garniture preferred could be used. The closing of this frock is on the side under a row of black velvet buttons which correspond with the neck band and bib as well as the zouave vest. One side of this vest is left loose and the other secured under part of the full bodice. The hat worn with this costume is a blue felt trimmed with a huge bow and loops of blue ribbon striped in slender lines in black.

A Splendid Hat.

From the plain severity of the big min poke, piped and stitched about the edge, or piped only, and ornamented with a plume or two rampant and a rose, to a tiny bonnet, a mass of frilled lace and all sorts and kinds of furbelows, everything as to size and everything as to shape in headgear for women is approved of fashion. There are, however, some distinct features that prevail, whatever the size or shape of the hat or bonnet. For example, whenever there is a brim or a flare which makes it possible, flowers, a chon of colored velvet or ribbon, or a band of some sort is put in next to the hair. Another prevailing feature is a frill of lace on the edges of hats and bonnets. In fact, some of the bonnets from famous Parisian milliners

Lee Miller, an old-time former Sedalian, and now traveling for a Chicago clothing house, is in the city, a guest at Kaiser's.

That carries many a man to the bottom of the Sea of Misfortune. As the old saying goes, "He who hesitates is lost." The best things of life slip beyond the grasp of the man who doesn't avail himself of the golden chance. Here is your opportunity:

SENTENCE PASSED.

JUNE 2 FIXED FOR DICK ROBINSON'S EXECUTION.

TO THE SUPREME COURT.

An Appeal Taken to That Body by Lawyer Dan E. Kennedy Yesterday.

GRAND JURY ADJOURNED.

Recommendations For a New Jail—The Day's Proceedings in Court

Judge Ryland Saturday forenoon overruled the motion for a new trial in the Dick Robinson murder case, and at the opening of the afternoon session of the criminal court the condemned man was sentenced to be hanged on Friday, June 2d, 1893.

The Arguments.

It was a few minutes after 9 o'clock when Dan E. Kennedy, attorney for the defendant, began his argument on a motion for a new trial, on the grounds set forth in Friday's DEMOCRAT. There were only a score or so of spectators present, as it was not generally known that the case was to be passed upon at that time, but those in attendance listened most attentively to what the young lawyer had to say in behalf of his doomed client.

Mr. Kennedy went into the case at length, dwelling particularly upon the admission of Robinson's confession as evidence, and cited authorities in proof of his claim that it should have been excluded. He also referred at some length to the acceptance on the panel of forty, from which the jury was to be selected, of men whom he alleged had prejudged the case, and for this reason were not competent to act as jurors.

Another point that commanded his attention was the fact that one of the jurors had kept a memorandum of the testimony introduced during the trial, and for these and other reasons the attorney for the defendant maintained that a new trial should be accorded the condemned man.

The plea was a strong one, and Mr. Kennedy was complimented later by the court for his earnestness in behalf of his client, which was made without hope of financial reward.

On behalf of the state, County Attorney Hoffman replied to the arguments of Mr. Kennedy, also citing authorities in support of his position, and concluded by making the statement that he did not believe there was the least ground whatever for granting a new trial.

At the close of Mr. Hoffman's argument the court called for the papers in the case, after which he passed upon the various points set forth by Mr. Kennedy in his motion. Even minute details were entered into by his honor, but at the same time the court gave it as his belief that the grounds for a new trial were not well taken, in consequence of which the motion was overruled.

About two and one-half hours were consumed in the arguments and decision, and during it all the defendant sat like a statue. Occasionally he would shift his position, changing from his left to his right hand upon which to rest his head, and it was not until the motion was overruled that he gave the least evidence of being other than a mere spectator in the court.

When the motion was overruled, however, Dick's manner quickly changed, and evidences of nervousness were plainly perceptible. He moved uneasily in his seat, and it was no doubt a relief when he left the court house, in the custody of a bailiff, at 11:45 a. m., notwithstanding he was aware that he was to be returned in less than two hours to have the sentence of death passed upon him.

Awaiting Sentence.

When Robinson was brought into court after dinner he was asked by Mr. Hoffman how he was feeling and answered, "Oh, first rate." His manner, however, belied his words, as he kept pulling nervously at his thin moustache and crossed and re-crossed his legs as though ill at ease. For the next few minutes he sat with his left elbow upon the attorneys' table and his head resting upon his hand, but he looked neither to the right nor the left. The opening of the court room doors caused others to turn their heads to see who was about to enter, but not so with Dick. He kept his eyes upon the table directly in front of him, paying not the least attention to what was going on around him, and it was plainly apparent that he was absorbed in thoughts of his own. As to what those thoughts were, who is there that is prepared to speak authoritatively? At this time the court room was about one-third filled with spectators, a few of whom were colored. The belief had got abroad that sentence would not be pronounced until the last day of the term, or otherwise the court room would most likely have been crowded.

The Sentence.

At 1:30 Judge Ryland ascended the bench and requested Robinson to stand up. The court asked the convicted man if he had anything to say why sentence should not be passed upon him, to which Dick replied: "No, sir, I believe not." The court then addressed Robinson, informing him that he had been indicted, tried and found guilty of the murder of Johanna Schollman in the southern part of the city last October. The court had appointed able counsel for the accused, and he had been defended before a jury as the law directs. After a patient hearing a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree had been returned.

Under our law, continued the court, he who commits the crime of murder must pay the penalty by a forfeiture of his own life. The evidence showed that Robinson's reputation was good, but his character was bad, very bad, or he could not have been guilty of the crime of which convicted—which crime was committed Sunday night, when the prisoner should have been worshipping God.

The evidence revealed, the court said, that after the crime was committed Robinson did his best to hide all evidence of it, but to no purpose. The case would be taken to a higher court to say whether or not errors had been committed by the trial court, but if any had been committed his honor desired to say that they were not intentional. An appeal to other than earthly courts was Judge Ryland's advice to Robinson.

"There are many things connected with life that are pleasant," said the court, "and there are some that are unpleasant. One of the latter now devolves upon me in pronouncing sentence. I will give you as long as the law permits, Robinson, but the sentence of the court is that on the second day of June, 1893, you be executed in the county jail—hanged by the neck until you are dead—and may God have mercy on your soul."

To the Supreme Court.

During the pronouncing of the sentence Robinson was perfectly cool and collected—much more so than he had been when he entered the court room at the afternoon session.

No sooner had the doomed man taken his seat than a motion was filed by Lawyer Kennedy for an appeal to the supreme court. It was granted by Judge Ryland, and a transcript of the case was ordered prepared at the expense of the state, owing to the fact that Robinson is penniless.

Of course Robinson will not be hanged on the date set for the execution, as the case will not be passed upon by the supreme court before the October term, even if it is then. In the meantime, Robinson will be the guest of Sheriff Porter, but he desires to be left alone for the present, and it is quite likely that he will be accommodated.

The Grand Jury.

The grand jury came into court just before noon and announced that its work was completed, whereupon it was discharged by the court. In its report the jury has the following to say regarding the poor farm:

"Having visited the poor farm, we report everything in first-class condition, so far as comfort to the inmates is concerned. We especially commend the present management for cleanliness. The inmates expressed their satisfaction as to good treatment. In the opinion of the jury, it would be better for the farm to be located nearer the county seat. The present farm is not productive. Less land and a better quality would be an improvement over the present condition."

In reference to the county jail, the report of the jury says: "As to the management of the jail, we find it satisfactory in all respects. The prisoners are well fed and are made as comfortable as possible under existing circumstances. The sanitary condition of the jail is very bad. The prisoners are crowded. More room is needed. There is not sufficient room in the cooking department. In short, we need a new jail."

Working on the College.

Mr. Buckley, the contractor for the woodwork on the new George R. Smith college, colored, situated in the northern part of the city, has a force of men at work Tuesday and will rapidly push the work to completion. General Superintendent La Porte, of Little Rock, is expected in the city by the latter party of the week. The college as proposed is a handsome and commodious building and will add much to Sedalia's fame for fine buildings.

CITIZENS' NATIONAL.

One of Sedalia's Oldest and Best Banking Institutions.

The Citizens' National, which, with one exception, is the oldest bank in Sedalia, was organized in 1872 with $100,000 capital stock. Just after its organization it began the erection of the substantial building it now occupies and owns at the corner of Ohio and Main streets. At its birth the Citizens' National numbered among its stockholders some of the most responsible, reliable and conservative business men of this part of the state.

Among whom may be mentioned Clifton Wood, its first president, who was a most successful, and the pioneer merchant of Pettis county; Wm. H. Powell, sr., who began with nothing, and by his own individual efforts, has acquired a fortune, and to-day is regarded as one of the best financiers of the country; Wm. T. Hutchinson, N. N. Parberry and others.

The bank has always done a safe, legitimate, banking business, and has a standing in the financial world which is second to no bank with an equal amount of capital. It has been most prosperous and has never failed to pay a semi-annual dividend of 5 to 6 per cent. since its organization.

Following are its officers and directors:

Wm. T. Hutchinson, president.
John D. Crawford, vice-president.

Wm. H. Powell, jr., cashier.
Grant Crawford, assistant cashier.
Lon V. Ware, bookkeeper.

Directors—Wm. H. Powell, sr., Sam'l H. Beiler, M. Doherty, Jas. H. Doyle, John D. Crawford, Wm. H. Powell, jr., N. N. Parberry, S. P. Johns.

The working force of the bank with Wm. H. Powell, jr., as cashier, at its head, are all young men whose character for integrity is the best and whose business training has especially fitted them for the different positions they occupy.

The Citizens' National bank of Sedalia is regarded as one of the safe financial institutions of the state, which reputation is well earned and well deserved.

Transfers of Realty.

The following transfers of realty were filed to-day:

J. D. Schooler and wife to Clara A. Ritchey, lot 3, block 8, Campbell's addition; $1000.

Clara A. Ritchey to J. D. Schooler, lots 2 and 3, block 4, Ritchey's third addition; $500.

Wm. B. Porter, by J. C. Porter, sheriff, to Addie Porter, the northeast quarter of the southeast quarter of section 7, township 47, range 22; $1200.

Edwin H. Young to Wm. and Sallie Watson, lot 6, block 2, Felix's addition; $550.

Henry May to Wm. H. Dickinson, lots 3 and 4, block 2, Stafford's addition, Green Ridge; $250.

HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY.

Spraying Touched Upon—Conditions of Orchards in the County—Prominent Visitors.

The Pettis County Horticultural society met in the probate court room at the court house last Saturday for the transaction of regular business.

Prof. W. J. Greer, of the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station; Chas. C. Bell, of Boonville; L. A. Goodman, of the Missouri State Horticultural society, and John E. Randall, of Lamar, were present.

Many agreed with Mr. G. B. Lamm in his "Give the Study of Horticulture a Place in Our Public Schools." The article has been printed in pamphlet form for distribution.

It was thought to be too early to estimate the damage of the late frost. Apples were reported blooming sparsely.

The spraying of plums, apples and grapes was recommended, and the members of the society advised to send for the bulletin on spraying issued by the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station, at Wooster, Ohio. Nothing definite was done in connection with the maple trees in the city.

Local fruit growers thought that there would not be an abundant apple crop, owing to the twig blight of last summer. Peaches were safe and a fine crop could be expected.

WOUND UP TUESDAY.

CRIMINAL COURT ADJOURNED JUST BEFORE NOON.

ARNOLD MURDER CASE.

Three Prisoners Sentenced—Final Proceedings in the Criminal Court.

In the criminal court, Tuesday morning, the case of the state vs. J. M. Shobe and Peter Scally, charged with the larceny of a watch from J. K. Hart, was called and the defendants were recognized in the sum of $500 each for their appearance. The death of Jacob Shobe was suggested and the cause against him was abated.

The case of the state vs. C. P. Weyand, charged with obtaining property by false pretenses when he conducted Hotel Riley, was continued generally and the defendant recognized in the sum of $1,000 for his appearance.

In the case of Geo. Cliff, charged with the theft of a watch from Nora Maydwell, defendant pleaded not guilty and was held in the sum of $500.

Other entries were made as follows:

State vs. Minnie Colbert, colored, charged with practicing a confidence game; continued generally.

State vs. Dr. M. L. Smith, practicing medicine without a diploma; plea of not guilty and held in the sum of $250.

State vs. Chas. Rogers, of Lamonte; assault and battery; and State vs. Ida Burton, Mattie Douglass, Blanch Boykins, Annie Ingram and Retta LeRoy, keeping bawdy house, forfeiture of recognition taken, with leave to move to set the same aside.

State vs. Nathan Arnold, charged with murder in the first degree in having killed Curry Tribue, the case having been investigated by two grand juries, and no report having been made by either, the defendant was discharged from further attendance on the grand jury.

State vs. Chas. Harbour, charged with keeping a gambling house; defendant arraigned and pleads guilty to gambling; fined $5 and costs.

State vs. Fred Schach, obstructing a public highway; continued generally.

State vs. Bert Watson, petit larceny; ordered sent to the reform school during minority.

Chas. Witcher was discharged under the insolvent act, after having served ten days for petit larceny. Witcher did not get out of the court room, however, before he was re-arrested on a second charge of petit larceny.

Wm. B. Alexander, the young man who robbed his room mate, was sentenced to three years imprisonment in the penitentiary; and Robert Gibbs, convicted of assault with attempt to commit rape, was sentenced to five years.

Court adjourned to court in course, at 1:30 o'clock a. m.

Judge Ryland returned home this afternoon, Sheriff Porter will take Gibbs and Alexander to the penitentiary to-night, while Deputy Sheriff Ramsey will take Watson to the reform school at 6 o'clock p. m.

WALBURN'S WISDOM.

He Writes Regarding Sedalia's Room at the World's Fair.

A. W. Walburn, of Chicago, who married Miss Mary Gentry, of this county, writes the following as a postscript to a business letter addressed to Hon. J. H. Bothwell:

"I am glad to see Sedalia is going to have a room in the Missouri building at the world's fair. This can be made to do your town and county an immense amount of good, if properly looked after and utilized. I spent six months in the state buildings of Kansas and Colorado at the Centennial and know all about it.

This same little room named Sedalia, and with some of your own people in charge of it, can be made to bring more new capital and desirable new people to your city and county and in less time than anything else your town has ever undertaken for its advertisement. The results will be more than can be appreciated now, but it is an opportunity that will not occur again in many years."

Thompson, all their right, title, interest and estate, in and to the following described real estate, situated in the county of Pettis, state of Missouri, viz:

East half (1/2) of the following: Beginning seven hundred twenty-six and one half (726 1/2) feet from the center of the Pacific rail road, north on the east line of Washington avenue, thence continuing north on the east line of said avenue eighty-two and one half (82 1/2) feet, thence east two hundred eighty-five (285) feet, thence south eighty-two and one half (82 1/2) feet, thence west two hundred ninety (290) feet or thereabouts to the beginning. Which said conveyance was made in trust to secure the payment of a certain promissory note in said deed described, and whereas the interest on said note has become due and is unpaid, now therefore, in accordance with the provisions of said deed of trust and at the request of the legal holder of said note, I shall proceed to sell the above described real estate at the west door of the court house in the city of Sedalia, in the county of Pettis, state aforesaid, to the highest bidder for cash, at public auction, on Tuesday, the 25th day of April, 1893

J. C. THOMPSON, Trustee.
Dated this 23rd day of March, 1893.

THE WHEAT CROP.

What an Expert Has to Say Regarding It.

R. S. Jennings, of Chicago, who has been making a tour of Kansas for the express purpose of ascertaining the condition of the wheat crop in the Sunflower state, spent the Sabbath in Sedalia, the guest of his old friend, ex-Sheriff Smith. Mr. Jennings was seen by a DEMOCRAT reporter and said:

"In Western Kansas it will be impossible to raise a crop, and in the northeastern portion of the state the outlook is bad. In Southern Kansas the outlook is better than it was a year ago, but the condition may be changed before harvest time. Moisture is needed in many sections, but even with it the crop will be far below what it was last year.

"As to Missouri, I have only traveled through Saline, Lafayette and Jackson counties so far, but I have found everything highly satisfactory. I shall make a thorough tour of the state, and then travel through Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Michigan before returning home."

HAS DISAPPEARED.

THOMAS PRIMM, A FARMER, IS MISSING.

$700 CASH IN HIS POCKET.

Took Three Wagons and Twelve Head of Horses--Leaves a Family.

Thomas Primm, a prosperous farmer about 40 years of age, living on Muddy in the northwestern part of Pettis county, left his home on Tuesday, February 28th, and has not since been seen by his wife who is greatly alarmed over his continued absence.

On that day Mr. Primm, accompanied by his little eleven-year-old son, started for Marshall, Mo. He took three wagons and twelve head of horses and mules which he told his wife he intended to sell at Marshall. He also had $700 in cash on his person. Three days afterwards the little boy returned to his home and stated to his mother that his father told him to go home and that he himself would be back in two weeks.

Since that day nothing has ever been heard from the missing man. Inquiry has been made by his family, but he seems to have dropped completely out of existence. Some were inclined to think he had been made the victim of foul play, having had so much money. Others are inclined to think that he has left the country with a woman who lived in the neighborhood of his home and with whom he is said to have been on familiar terms. This theory is substantiated by the fact that he left for a certain town in Southwest Missouri on the same day that he went away from his home.

Primm leaves a wife and three children, two girls aged respectively 18 and 14, and a little boy aged 11. The family is in fair circumstances, owning a good farm that is free from any incumbrances.

A Business Change.

A trade was made this morning that involves considerable capital and adds to the commercial interests of the city two popular and enterprising young men. The large and complete livery stable of Offield & Gentry, Nos. 213 and 215 West Fourth street, was to-day purchased by Jos. E. Turner and Dr. O. B. Caldwell, who have formed a partnership to continue the business upon an even more extensive scale. The entire outfit of horses, carriages, buggies, etc., was purchased. Joe Turner is a horseman of great experience. For twenty years he was connected with the magnificent farm of the late Major Gentry, and for many years was its able foreman. He is a gentleman of many friends, all of whom are glad to know that he will make Sedalia his future home. Dr. O. B. Caldwell has been a successful dentist, but commercial life has stronger attractions, and he has concluded to abandon his profession. His father in Kentucky is a wealthy horseman. Dr. Caldwell is a hustler, and by his wide acquaintance will command a large patronage.

SEDALIA WANTS IT.

Another Wholesale Grocery House for the Queen City--A Stock Company.

J. M. Offield, who retired from the livery business Tuesday, informed a representative of the DEMOCRAT that he intended to enter into the wholesale grocery business.

This is good news to the interests of Sedalia. Mr. Offield was in the wholesale grocery business for seventeen years with Hall & Beiler, of this city. He was at Sherman, Texas, seven years as a member of the firm of Beiler & Offield. Associated with Mr. Offield in the new firm will be Mr. George Diehl, late with P. J. Willis & Bro., wholesale grocers at Galveston, Texas, and another gentleman well known in the wholesale grocery business in Texas. A stock company will be formed with a paid up capital of $50,000. Mr. Offield stated that the territory of the company would be that adjacent to Sedalia and that it is the intention to begin business by August 1st.

The DEMOCRAT takes pleasure in announcing the formation of the company and wishes for it every possible degree of success.

AT ITS OLD TRICKS.

The "Gazette" Goes Out of Its Way to Injure the Missouri Pacific Railway.

The Gazette went out of its way last Thursday to pay the Missouri Pacific a left-handed compliment by reproducing an article from the St. Louis Chronicle, in which it was set forth that the road would soon pass into the hands of receivers, as its financial condition is bad.

The Gazette followed the Chronicle story with a New York dispatch in which Geo. Gould denied that there was any truth whatever in the statement printed by the Chronicle; but the Gazette, in its desire to injure a home road, follows Mr. Gould's denial with the following paragraph:

"Local officers of the Missouri Pacific, when shown a copy of the paper yesterday, expressed great surprise. One of them said that part of the article relating to the running down of the bed and equipment was true, for it was a fact, known of all men who go over the line that the road, both as to track and equipment, was in worse condition than it had been for years."

There are several local officials in Sedalia, including Messrs. Clark, Stilwell, Weller, Sheldon, Rogers and Rohwer, but no one believes that they are responsible for the paragraph printed above. Will the Gazette be more specific and name the "local officers" that it pretends to quote?

The fact is, and it is universally conceded in railway circles, that the track and equipment of the Missouri Pacific are not surpassed by any western railway and equaled by few. Nearly the entire main line is rock ballasted, and the idea of any local official making use of the language printed by the Gazette is simply preposterous.

To attack home institutions appears to be the policy of the Gazette under the new management, however, and it is not surprising that the paper is fast losing its few remaining subscribers.

Wants to Reform.

Bert Watson, about 18 years old, who was captured with Harry Thompson and Wm. Grubb, the crooks who robbed the farm house of A. W. Driver, a farmer, were taken to the reform school last night.

Will Go to Railroad.

Ex-Policeman P. J. Eckles has secured a position on the Missouri Pacific and will brake on the west end with Conductor E. J. Stubblefield.

Meade Can Sympathize.

Division Superintendent Meade Stillwell, of the Missouri Pacific, knows how to sympathize with President S. H. H. Clark, of the Union Pacific, who now has a strike on his hands. Mr. Stillwell was division superintendent on the Union Pacific for two years, with headquarters at Pocatello, Idaho, and he knows what a strike in that wilderness means.

In Good Condition.

An inquiry at the headquarters of both the Missouri Pacific and the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railways this morning found all the divisions of the roads running into Sedalia in good condition. The road bed is firm in most places and no wash-outs have as yet been reported.

Transfers of Realty.

Transfers of realty was filed for record Tuesday as follows:

M. R. Fast and husband to McLellan Wollett, lots 4, 5 and 6, block 5, McVey's second addition; $250.

Two Insane People.

County court was in session today to pass upon two insanity cases.

During the morning hours Allen Mercer, a farmer of 24 years, who resides in Elk Fork township, was adjudged insane and ordered sent to the insane asylum at Nevada.

This afternoon a like finding was returned in the case of Mary Myers, and both patients will be taken to Nevada to-morrow by Deputy Sheriff Ramsey.

Lost.

Brown spring overcoat, between Sedalia and Beaman. Any one finding the same leave at this office and receive reward.

A Fortune for Its Owner.

The Denver Herald of a recent date contains a lengthy article concerning the invention of a successful automatic car coupler by Mr. Hardin G. Field, of Denver, and which has every indication of bringing a big fortune for the patentee. He is known to many Sedalians and is the son of Attorney Curtis N. Field and Mrs. M. L. Field, who spent the past fall and winter with relatives in Missouri. He is also a grandnephew of the late Judge Curtis Field.

The coupler is uncoupled by means of a lever securely fastened to the end of the car and extending to the outer sides of the same, with handles attached so as to be operated entirely free from danger. The draw head is composed of two locks into which the link or draw bar is forced by the motion of the cars desired to be coupled. Whenever thus coupled it is impossible for them to separate by any ordinary accident or pressure. The draw bar can be coupled with the old drawhead by use of the pin, or the link and pin can be used as heretofore.

The S. S. M. &amp; N. Depot.

The little paragraph in Monday's DEMOCRAT, to the effect that there was a belief in certain quarters that the depot for the Springfield, Sedalia, Marshall and Northern railway would be located in West Sedalia, has caused several persons to express disapproval of the location. It is true that the report may be only street rumor, but if the matter of location was left to the people of Sedalia it is pretty safe to say that the S. S. M. & N. cars would run into the present union depot.

The Name Followed Him.

G. Ananias Cook, the "military editor of the Gazette," who returned to Sedalia this week after a year's residence in Iowa, says that the title of "military editor" followed him from here to Lexington and thence to the Hawkeye state, and he has reached the conclusion that the newspapers of Sedalia are read in all quarters of the globe. Mr. Cook says that he is exceedingly glad to again reside in Sedalia, and his cup of happiness will be filled to overflowing when his wife and babes join him here about May 15.

May Go to New Mexico.

Dan Clifford, the popular machinist, has given up his position at the Missouri Pacific shops, and it is quite likely that he will remove to New Mexico, where he has two sisters residing. Dan was not one of the unfortunates dismissed Monday in order that expenses might be reduced, but quit of his own accord.

Scarcity of Workmen.

George E. Dugan was scouring the city this morning, notwithstanding the rain, in search of painters, but met with ill success. Mr. Dugan says it seems as if everybody is determined on papering and painting their houses this spring, and the outlook for a busy season in his line was never so bright as it is to-day.

Is Deputy Constable.

Billy Drake, ex-policeman, has been appointed deputy constable and will make one of Constable Jim Gossage's most valuable assistants. The evil doers among the colored population of the city have reason to fear Billy, as he has made things lively for them.

SEDALIA BRICK.

A Sidewalk That Was Laid Nineteen Years Ago.

The new sidewalk just laid along the front and east sides of Brandt & Grote's store, at Main and Ohio, caused an old-timer to unbosom himself this morning, as follows:

"That walk was laid originally by Bone McClure nineteen years ago, out of Sedalia brick, and so well preserved are many of them that they were utilized in laying the new walk. At the time Mr. McClure put down this particular walk a fine walk of limestone flagging was laid in front of Smith's hall and it has been replaced no less than three times."

Judging from the above, there is nothing the matter with Sedalia brick.

JOHN'S JOB.

Capt. J. J. Kinney Will Be Provided For on the Santa Fe—Status of the Strike.

A letter was received last Thursday from Capt. John J. Kinney, who is at Topeka, in which he says that he expects to secure a position with the Santa Fe within the next day or two.

Mr. Kinney says the strike of shopmen is not causing General Manager Frey any great annoyance, as trains are moving as usual and more freight is being hauled than ever before in the road's history.

Mr. Kinney enclosed in his letter a copy of resolutions adopted by the company's employees at La Junta, Col., and forwarded to Master Mechanic Player, as follows:

"We, as the Brotherhood of Railway Shop Employees at La Junta, desire to say to you, through the press, that a copy of the contract which is the cause of the present strike on the A. T. & S. F. system has been furnished said Brotherhood of Railway Shop Employees, and after a careful and dispassionate examination of the same, in lodge assembled, we believe it to be a blow to said Brotherhood of Shop Employees, and as such we ask our members along the line of said system to return to work, as we have no grievances at present with said railway system, and cannot consistently join the striking forces, cut our men out of employment, or force them, by such action, to go to work at wiper's pay, as then the days of the handy men would be numbered."

A Bargain.

For sale, lots 7 and 8, block one, lots 7 and 8, block two, and lots 1, 2, 9 and 10, block three, Felix estate subdivision to Sedalia. Address owner. A. B. STODDART, Grand Junction, Colorado.

SOMEBODY'S SHAME.

A Dead Infant Found on West Third Street—Born Last Night.

A number of school children while on their way to school last Thursday found the body of a dead infant lying about ten feet from the sidewalk on the ground at one time occupied by the merry-go-round on West Third street.

Officer John Scally was notified of the find and he in turn summoned Coroner Muehl. Both visited the spot and found the body to be that of a white male foetus, evidently about three months old. It was well developed. There were no traces by which its unnatural parents could be discovered. Every indication pointed to the fact that the body had been left on the spot during the heavy storm of that night. An inquest was deemed unnecessary and the body was buried on the spot.

Coroner Muehl said the only thing that could result from an investigation would be to prove that a criminal operation had been performed.

Farmers of Pettis and Benton Counties.

I take great pleasure in announcing to you that I am prepared to show you the best line of implements ever kept by any one house in Sedalia (the choice of the leading manufacturers of the whole country) including the famous Deering machines, improved to perfection. Also buggies, spring wagons, carriages, wagons, and everything connected with our line. Call before purchasing, as it is to your interest to buy the best, which is always the cheapest.

D. M. WILLIAMS,
206 W. Main street, Sedalia, Mo.

GREAT NATURAL FILTER.

The Explanation of Plainfield's Pure Water Supply.

The wonderful water supply found under this city has been the subject of much comment and conjecture regarding its source, says a Plainfield, N. J. special to the New York Tribune. Nearly fifty years ago it began to be used extensively for invalids, and there are still several ruins of what thirty-five years ago were fashionable water cure resorts. The water possesses great purity and the supply is inexhaustible.

In some places the water contains mineral salts, whose medicinal qualities have been highly praised.

About a mile west of the city boundary are the ruins of a once well known water cure establishment, which was in the height of its glory about 1855. Many acres of ground were laid out in a beautiful park and handsome summer houses, statuary, rustic seats, paths and more pretentious houses were built over the mineral springs. Some of the buildings are still standing, and many vestiges remain of the improvements.

The abundant water supply is not caused by a subterranean river, as claimed by the Scientific American in a recent issue, but is received from superficial earth twenty-five to seventy-five feet deep, lying upon basement rock, consisting of loam, sand and gravel, saturated its whole depth from about eighteen feet below the surface.

The peculiar soil which geologists call morain or glacial drift, placed thousands of years ago, has been shown by recent experiments to be the best kind of a purifier. Through this compact mass there is no rushing river, as has been described, but only the steady movement of water among the interstices of consolidated sand and stones, which, being nature's perfect filter, gives to Plainfield its pure water and healthy atmosphere.

The supply of drinking water stored beneath this city is sole rain water which has percolated into the lower strata. The depth of rain-fall on Plainfield every year amounts to forty-eight to fifty-two inches, or more than twenty-five gallons of water to the square foot.

Until about a year ago the water was brought to the surface by means of driven wells, and still continues to be drawn in that manner by many of the residents, though a waterworks company, which now has the city franchise, supplies the water throughout the city, pumping it from the driven wells with great steam pumps.

Having an inexhaustible supply, the company extended its pipes more than thirty-three miles, and now supplies Netherwood, Farwood, Westfield, Cranford, Roselle and even Elizabeth, the county seat of Union county. The water from this city thus supplies a population of nearly 100,000.

INNOCENT HENRY.

His Brusque Way of Stating a Fact Startled the Family.

A very good and pious man recently bought a rough piece of ground and proposed to do some farming. There was a skimpy little stream on the place that he thought might be made into a reservoir, so he sent his hired man to investigate. Several hours later the hired man appeared in the family circle.

"Well, Henry," inquired the good man, "what is the result?"

"Tain't worth a dam, sir," replied Henry earnestly.

The good man gasped and the family fell over each other trying to get as far away as possible.

Henry was amazed, and looked it.

"What's that?" asked the good man, evidently not realizing that he was asking to hear again what had so shocked him at first.

"Tain't worth a dam, sir," repeated Henry.

"What do you mean?" and this time the good man was mad.

"Just what I said, sir," responded Henry, who had not caught on. "You couldn't plug that creek up tight enough to catch a wash tub full of water in six months," and all at once Henry's rather startling report was entirely denuded of its possibilities of profane language.

Couldn't Afford That.

Old Captain P., of the regulars, was inspecting the prisoners at a San Francisco post, one morning, and found one of his old veterans, who had a weakness for liquor, in the line. "Well, McGuire," said the captain, "back again, are you? Now why don't you drink like a gentleman, and keep out of trouble; drink like I do." "Ah, shure, sir," replied McGuire, "if I drank like the captain, I would have been dead these ten years."

TRUSTEE'S SALE.—Whereas, Robert Gray and Mahala Gray, his wife, by their certain deed of trust dated the 24th day of May, 1888, and recorded in the recorder's office of Pettis county, at deed book 52, pages 92 and 93, conveyed to the undersigned trustee all their right, title, interest and estate, in and to the following described real estate, situated in the county of Pettis, state of Missouri, viz:

Lot number five (5) in block number one (1) of Edward Brown's subdivision of lots three (3), four (4), five (5) and six (6) of McVey's addition to the City of Sedalia, Mo. Otherwise described as a lot number five (5) in block number one (1) of Edward Brown's subdivision of lots three (3), four (4), five (5) and six (6) of McVey's addition to the City of Sedalia, Pettis county, Missouri.

Which said conveyance was made in trust to secure the payment of four certain promissory notes in said deed described, and whereas the interest on said principal note has become due and is unpaid, now therefore, in accordance with the provisions of said deed of trust and at the request of the legal holder of said note, I shall proceed to sell the above described real estate at a court house, west door, in the City of Sedalia, in the County of Pettis, state aforesaid, to the highest bidder for cash, at public auction on

HENRY LAMM, Trustee.
Dated this 3rd day of April, 1893.

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE.—Notice is hereby given that letters of administration on the estate of Thomas T. Gorrell, deceased, were granted to the undersigned on the 6th day of April, 1893, by the Probate court of Pettis county, Missouri.

All persons having claims against said estate are required to exhibit them for allowance, to the administrator within one year after the date of said letters, or they may be precluded from any benefit of such estate; and if such claims be not exhibited within two years from the date of this publication, they shall be forever barred.

This 6th day of April, 1893.

BENJ. W. GORRELL,
Administrator.
